New Israel-Egyptian Clash Breaks Short-Lived Truce

ARRIVING AT THE WASHINGTON Soldiers' Home to become the first woman resident of the 104-year-old institution, ex-Pvt. Regina C. Jones, 47, gets a warm welcome from veterans of three wars. Miss Jones was a World War II WAC. She was nearly blinded in the Egyptian desert and later lost a leg.

Ike Summons 2 Leaders for Security Talk

President Will Confer With Nixon Monday, Adm. Radford Friday

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower today arranged top secret national security conferences here next week with Vice President Nixon and Adm. Arthur W. Radford.

Nixon will fly from Washington for a session with the President at the summer White House Labor Day.

Radford, chairman of the Chiefs of Staff and Eisenhower's top military adviser, will meet with the chief executive next Friday.

Declines Reasons

James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, declined to shed any light on the specific reason for the conferences.

He did say, however, that national security matters would be discussed at both meetings—and that the discussions would deal with the same security problems.

Immediately after his conference with the President, Nixon will fly back to Washington to preside Thursday at a White House meeting of the National Security Council, the government's top policy-making unit on security matters.

That session too, Hagerty said, will deal with the same security affairs bringing Nixon and Radford to Denver. Radford will leave Washington after the NSC meetings for his Friday conference with Eisenhower here.

Aides Going Too

The president is chairman of the security council, but Nixon has been presiding during the chief executive's Colorado vacation.

Nixon will be accompanied to Denver by Dillon Anderson, presidential aide on national security affairs, and Theodore Streibert, chief of the United States Information Agency.

Eisenhower's scheduled Labor Day meeting with the vice president means the holiday weekend will be devoted partly to official business and partly to golf and bridge.

Gaza Attack Is Repulsed, Cairo Claims

Israeli Losses Believed 22 Dead as Two-Day Cease-Fire Is Shattered

JERUSALEM (AP) — New Israeli-Egyptian warfare erupted today on the tense Gaza frontier, ending a two-day lull under an unofficial cease-fire.

An official Egyptian spokesman in Cairo said an Israeli armored force attacked an Egyptian post in the northern area of the Gaza strip, with 22 Israelis believed killed and many others wounded. He said there were no Egyptian casualties.

Israeli Report Differs

There was no such word from the Israeli side, which announced earlier that a heavy artillery duel had shattered the silence in the same northern end of the bloody strip.

The Israeli spokesman said the exchange was set off by the shelling of Beeri and Yad Mordechai settlements by Egyptian outposts.

The Egyptian account said four armored halftracks led the Israeli attack and two were destroyed. These are vehicles with wheels in front and caterpillar tracks behind.

The Egyptian spokesman said also that Israeli forces attacked an Arab refugee camp near Gaza but retreated under heavy Egyptian fire.

Comparative calm had prevailed for the last two days along the Gaza strip, an area six miles wide and 30 miles long in southern Palestine.

Had Agreed To Quit

The Israelis sent word to Cairo Thursday they would observe a cease-fire if the Egyptians would refrain from violence. Egypt said it had agreed on Tuesday to abide by a cease-fire sought by Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, the chief U. N. truce negotiator in Palestine. There has been no official acceptance of a cease-fire by both sides.

Israeli sources said Egyptian infiltrators dynamited wells in settlements near the Gaza area on Thursday and Friday nights, but no major violence had been reported until this morning.

The two-day lull came after nine days of warfare, including use of jet planes, which had caused casualties estimated as high as 61 dead and 91 wounded. Bodies of two Egyptian pilots killed on Israeli soil were returned to Egyptian officials at Gaza.

Arabs Back Egypt

Pledges of military support to Egypt in the event of increased hostilities between Egypt and Israel have some from neighboring Arab states.

A U. N spokesman said he had no knowledge of a Damascus radio report denied in Cairo, that 18 Israelis had been captured by the Egyptians in a raid on a Gaza settlement.

MacARTHUR GREETS JAPANESE MINISTER. General of the Army Douglas MacArthur has a handshake for Mamoru Shigemitsu as the Japanese foreign minister visited MacArthur's suite in New York City, Sept. 2—10 years after the two signed the Japanese surrender document on battleship Missouri.

Confers With Shigemitsu

MacArthur Takes Credit For Saving Japan's Ruler

NEW YORK (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur says he personally saved Emperor Hirohito of Japan from trial and execution after his name was placed on the list of accused World War II criminals.

The list was drawn up by "some countries other than the United States," MacArthur said.

This footnote to history of the postwar days was made by the general Friday, the 10th anniversary of Japan's surrender. It came during a friendly meeting with Japanese Foreign Minister Namoru Shigemitsu, here on a four-day visit.

Hirohito, MacArthur said, was willing to assume full responsibility for his country's conduct in the war.

He quoted the emperor as saying at the time: "I wish to assume full responsibility for every event connected with the prosecution of the war. I assume responsibility for the actions of every military commander and every statesman of Japan. Whatever your judgment is as to what my fate may be, go ahead. I assume all responsibility."

MacArthur said that when Hirohito's name appeared on the list, he violently protested "and my protests were heeded in Washington and finally everywhere."

"One of my arguments was that as a result of the devotion of the Japanese people to their emperor his trial and execution would have

Chinese Fugitive Sought

Air Crash Murder Charged by British

HONG KONG (AP)—British police have issued a murder conspiracy charge against a Chinese—now on Formosa—in connection with the crash of an airliner that carried eight Red Chinese officials to their death last April.

Sixteen persons perished when the Air India liner plunged into the South China Sea April 11 while en route to the Asian-African conference at Bandung, Indonesia.

Report Man Flees

British police in this crown colony announced Friday night the warrant had been issued and said the man sought had fled to the Chinese Nationalist island of Formosa. They said they had asked authorities there to return him to Hong Kong.

No other details were disclosed.

The plane's last stop before it plunged into the sea was Hong Kong. Immediately following the crash, Red China charged that "secret agents" of the United States and Nationalist China had sabotaged the plane in an attempt to assassinate Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai and other Communist Chinese delegates to the Asian-African meeting.

Charge Rejected

The United States rejected the charge, terming it "ridiculous" and "utter nonsense." Britain accused Red China of seeking to make political propaganda out of the crash without waiting for a proper investigation.

Police identified the man named in the warrant as Chow Tse-ming and said he had worked as a coolie cleaning airliners stopping in Hong Kong.

Aboard the crashed plane were eight members of Red China's delegation to the Bandung conference. Three of the 19 persons on the plane—two Indian crewmen and an Air India ground engineer traveling as a passenger—survived.

Buenos Aires Is Put in State of Siege by Peron

Move Made To Crush Opposition to Regime; Constitution Bypassed

BUENOS AIRES (AP)— Buenos Aires' 3½ million residents were under "state of siege" today as President Juan D. Peron pressed his new drive to eliminate opposition to his regime.

Peron Friday night signed a bill putting the state of siege into effect. It suspends constitutional guarantees, permitting the government to hold anyone indefinitely without trial and denying the right of habeas corpus.

The Peron-controlled House and Senate approved the bill Thursday and sent it to the president for his signature. It applies only to Buenos Aires, the capital.

The entire country already is under a "state of internal war," applied in September, 1951, after an abortive revolt. The state of internal war gives the same powers to the government, but it is an emergency act. The state of siege is a constitutional measure.

A set of rules for conduct under the state of siege included a ban on "unauthorized meetings or demonstrations in public streets and those realized behind closed doors when they are for purposes other than cultural, social, commercial or sports. . . ."

Also prohibited was "printing, distribution, divulging or possessing publications of subversive nature."

Peron said his government will impose order at all costs and warned his foes they are "in danger of drowning themselves."

Polio Delaying School Start in Massachusetts

More Than 70 Hold Up Opening Despite State Advice To Go Ahead

BOSTON (AP) — More than 70 Massachusetts school committees —faced with mounting parental anxiety over the polio situation— have postponed school opening dates despite state health officials' advice to the contrary.

School boards, most of them in eastern Massachusetts, continued to hold emergency meetings, prompted not so much by fear that opening on time would help spread the disease but by growing pressure from parents.

Massachusetts has reported 2,274 cases of polio, with 44, the lowest number in a month, listed yesterday.

Dr. Roy Feemster, director of the state's division of communicable diseases, said school opening postponements would "have little effect" on the spread of polio and that children would be better off in school under supervision of teachers, doctors and nurses.

Rhode Island communities, including Providence, Pawtucket and Woonsocket, announced delays. Affected so far are more than half the state's school population.

State health officials in New Hampshire advised 25 private boarding and preparatory schools to forbid enrollment of students from eastern Massachusetts "for at least two weeks" after normal opening dates.

The New England polio's total rose Friday to 3,034, compared with 643 cases on that date in 1954. The death toll stood unofficially at 92.

Traffic Deaths Across Nation Start To Mount

By The Associated Press

Traffic deaths mounted slowly today although motorists were on the highways in heavy numbers celebrating summer's last holiday weekend.

Twenty-seven traffic deaths had been reported near mid-morning. No drownings were recorded. Two miscellaneous accident fatalities had occurred. The total: 29 dead.

The National Safety Council has estimated 400 persons will be killed in traffic accidents during the holiday period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Monday.

Accidental death reports usually build up slowly and climb rapidly during the late hours of the holiday period.

In an Associated Press survey for a nonholiday weekend of similar length, Aug. 19-22, 385 traffic deaths were reported. Deaths from all types of accidents totaled 537.

The toll for the three-day 1954 Labor Day weekend was 539 from all accidents, including 364 in traffic.

The record high for a three-day Labor Day weekend was 652 in 1951. The traffic toll that year was 461, also a high for the period.

The greatest three-day holiday accident death toll was 805 for the Independence Day holiday period this year.

Unusual efforts are being made to control traffic and cut down traffic deaths this holiday.

In Michigan, 450 National Guardsmen have been called to help state police control traffic at danger points. Eight airplanes and two helicopters also will be used. In the Chicago area, airplanes also were being used to spot traffic jams and radio reports to police in squad cars.

Blast Kills FOP's Founder in Canton

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Burns received in a gas explosion at his home were fatal today to Joseph H. Pence, 60, retired police captain and grand president of the Fraternal Order of Police in 1935-36.

Pence was remodeling his house to make an attic apartment when the blast occurred Monday. The cause was not determined. He was burned on the face, chest, and arms.

Pence helped found the FOP in Ohio and was state president in 1934. From 1939 to 1947 he was national legislative chairman of the policemen's organization.

Scorching Heat Brings Death to 10 in California

Mercury Hovers Above 100 Mark for 3 Days; Stock, Crops Hard Hit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Southern California's hottest heat wave continues today, in the wake of 10 deaths, more than 100 cases of heat prostrations and mounting losses in poultry and agriculture.

And the Weather Bureau predicts more sizzling heat today and Sunday. A high of 104 was forecast here today.

Friday the mercury boiled up to 108 in Los Angeles. It hit 110 the day before — an all-time high. Wednesday the maximum was 101.

Scorching temperatures have intensified several damaging fires. One of them Friday cost the lives of five persons and injured 11 others at La Habra, 22 miles southeast of here. The day before a fire at San Dimas, 25 miles east, destroyed 12 homes and damaged scores of others.

Five deaths were directly attributed to the heat on Thursday and five more Friday.

Losses in poultry and rabbits were so staggering that a Los Angeles County Farm Bureau official appealed to National Civil Defense Director Val Peterson to declare this a disaster area, permitting farmers to apply for disaster loans. It was estimated that scorching temperatures had killed three million dollars worth of chickens and rabbits.

Damage to vegetable and fruit crops mounted, with serious losses predicted if the hot spell doesn't

Sultan May Be Asked To Step Out in Morocco

French Seen Making Request To Pave Way For Regency Control

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — French authorities are expected to issue a formal request this weekend to aged Sultan Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafa to step down from his pink and gold throne.

The 74-year-old ruler has held the largely ornamental job since the French dethroned Sultan Mohammed Ben Youssef more than two years ago on grounds he used his position to advance the cause of Moroccan nationalism.

Demonstration Begins

Ben Youssef was exiled to Madagascar. The anniversary of his ouster touched off demonstrations two weeks ago resulting in the bloody massacre at Oued Zem which claimed the lives of 91 Europeans. This was followed by French punitive expeditions in which an estimated 1,000 Moroccans perished.

Officials said no announcement on Moulay Arafa's futures could be made in advance of an interview between the Sultan and Gen. Pierre Boyer de Latour du Moulin, the new French resident general.

De Latour is believed to have orders from Paris to ask the Sultan to leave "voluntarily."

The Sultan's vizier of protocol, Abder Rahman El Jahoui, has said repeatedly Moulay Arafa has no intention of getting out.

Generous Settlement

It is reported the French government would offer a generous settlement to the Sultan, his two sons and those who have remained faithful to him. This type of persuasion is being counted on to succeed.

The departure of the Sultan would pave the way for a regency that the nationalists could support.

To keep some 20,000 Americans in Morocco as far from trouble as possible, officers in charge of the big U. S. Air Force bases are trying to move those in danger areas to safety. Considered unsafe are areas too close to the tumultous

12 Believed Killed In Alaska Air Crash

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Five crew members and seven passengers were believed killed Thursday night when a crippled Air Force C47 crashed and burned trying to return to an emergency airstrip northwest of here.

The twin-engined transport crashed about a mile from the remote makeshift airstrip after it had developed engine trouble. The plane was on a 500-mile flight from Anchorage to Nome. The passengers were Air Force personnel.

The plane belonged to the 5039th Base Flight Squadron at Elmendorf Air Force Base.

The region in which it crashed has numerous peaks close to 4,000 feet in height.

Shatters 'Hoax' Report

Zhukov Sends Ike Photo, Letter of Thanks for Gift

DENVER (AP)—Remember those wedding gifts President Eisenhower sent to Soviet Marshal Georgi Zhukov's daughter? Well, the President now has a thank you note from Zhukov and a color photograph of the marshal and his family.

And that, said the White House in telling about it, ought to be a "pretty good rebuttal" of published reports that the Russians perpetrated a whopping hoax on Eisenhower at the Geneva Big Four conference.

The reports were that Zhukov—he and Eisenhower got to be good friends after World War II—not only had no just-married daughter but apparently no daughter at all.

Shows Two Daughters

The 10 by 12 inch handsomely framed photograph which Zhukov, the Soviet defense minister, sent to the President shows two daughters, both appearing to be in their early twenties. And in the accompanying note the marshal points out one of them, blonde Ella, as the girl who was married in July.

The picture, received by the President a few days ago through diplomatic channels, does not show Ella's new husband. But Zhukov's note, the White House said, names the bridegroom as Kliment Petrovich Voroshilov.

Wife in Picture

The new son-in-law's name is the same as that of the president of the Soviet Union. But James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, said he had no information as to whether they are related.

In addition to Ella the picture—taken in an attractive but unidentified garden—shows the marshal's buxom wife, Alexandra Dievna, and her beaming spouse. It is dated August, 1955.

Grouped around them are the two daughters—the other girl's

Omaha Traffic Judge Tough

Husbands Beware: Don't Let Wives Represent You

OMAHA (AP) — Judge James O'Brien was a bit astonished. And a bit put out.

Three men charged with traffic violations failed to appear Friday in his court. They sent their wives to represent them.

The judge pondered a while.

He decided he would hear the women, and listened to Mrs. James Hindman plead guilty to a charge of speeding against her husband.

Judge O'Brien leaned forward. He said:

"For every dollar I fine your husband you are to get a like amount for new clothing. Is $15 and costs all right?"

Okay With Her

If Mrs. Hindman was shaken she wasn't speechless.

"Fine," she laughed. "That's a new dress."

Next was Mrs. Clarence T. Miller. Her husband was charged with speeding with his wife and children in the car.

The judge ordered a $20 fine and costs.

Mrs. Miller shook her head. That size fine, she said, would mean no Labor Day fishing trip for the family.

Fair Enough

"All right," said Judge O'Brien, "I'll drop the fine to $10. You can let him go with you. But he must sit in the back seat. You drive and keep the children in the front seat with you."

"Fair enough," said Mrs. Miller. Then came Mrs. Herbert Schewe, also representing her husband on a speeding charge.

Again there was a $10 fine and an order for the wife to do the driving for a while.

But Mrs. Schewe said she couldn't drive.

"Let him drive then," said O'Brien. "But you take a rolling pin along and give him a crack on

Robert Meppen, 39, Dixon, Ill., all from Foster AFB, Victoria, Tex.

They expect to complete the trip in less than four hours including one refueling stop.

Bendix Trophy Race Delayed For 24 Hours

VICTORVILLE, Calif. (AP) —Six pilots of some of the nation's hottest aircraft have to cool their heels for 24 hours because of weather postponement of today's scheduled Bendix Trophy race.

The F100C North American Super Saber jets and their Air Force pilots were all set to race to Philadelphia to try to beat the coast-to-coast record of 652.522 m.p.h. when the postponement was announced.

Lt. Col. Richard Creighton, race project officer at George AFB here, said stormy weather in the Philadelphia area early today made the postponement necessary.

The race start was rescheduled for Sunday with weather indications good for that time.

Ohio State Fair Ends, Receipts Above '54 Total

Officials Hope Final Tabulation Will Be Near Break-Even Point

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio State Fair's year of decision—capsuled into the past eight days—is over. But fair officials say it will be weeks before a complete breakdown on fair receipts and expenditures will be available.

The breakdown is expected to go a long way towards influencing future legislative appropriations to the fair. Attendance, and consequently receipts, declined the past few years, and the exposition which ended yesterday was looked upon by fair officials as a "must" affair.

Available figures on 1955 attendance seem to indicate this year's fair has come through with flying colors. At least, it has done better than the 1954 show.

Fair attendance as of Thursday midnight was 473,275, an increase of 75,930 over last year's figures for the seven-day period. Paid admissions were 251,275, an increase of 18,930 over the 1954 fair.

As of Wednesday midnight, gross receipts on admissions, parking and entertainment totaled $260,435, an increase of $37,986 over a similar period last year.

Red Poll judging highlighted the final day yesterday, and James and John McKee, 31-year-old twin owners of McMarshall Farms of Washburn, Ill., captured the show's premier exhibitor and premier breeder awards along with the Red Poll, four-animal get-of-sire class.

McMarshall 9th, reserve grand champion of the show, was 1955 sire.

The grand champion title in the female Red Poll class went to Avalon Lyle's Empress, a 5-year-old owned by A. E. Miller & Son of Columbus, Wis.

Purdue University took the reserve grand champion with W. B. Red Hope, a 4-year-old, and also the Herdsman's Award for Red Polls.

The junior sheep shearing contest was won by Byron Thompson of Marysville. Runners-up were Patrick Arnold of Upper Sandusky second; Russell Johnson of Hillsboro, third, and Lewis Arnold of Fleming, fourth.

Earl McAdams of Wapakoneta took the senior shearing crown. He was followed by Alfred Magsif of Gibonsburg, Charles Smith of Upper Sandusky, and Robert Riedel of Sycamore, in that order.

Paul Taylor took the "champion of champions" shearing title in a new class of competition for former state titleholders.

Four Ohioans Die In Kentucky Crash

WARSAW, Ky. (AP)—Four men from Ohio were killed in a head-on collision of automobiles on U. S. 42 near here early today, state police reported. Two other persons were injured critically.

The police identified three of the dead as Hubert R. Matthews, 25 of Hillsboro, Benjamin Bell, 26, of Sandusky, and Willie Johnson of Sandusky.

The police identified three of the man tentatively as Russell L. Matthews, a brother of Hubert.

The injured were said to be Charles Johnson, 20, brother of Willie, and Marjorie McClout, 17, Sandusky.

A state policeman said the speedometer was stuck at 90 miles an hour on the car in which the Matthews brothers were riding.

Man Faces Charge

Clyde Calvin Kegley, 27, of 190 E. Mark St. was arrested at 2:30 a.m. today in a N. Main St. restaurant by city police on a charge of failure to pay traffic tickets. The warrant against him was signed by Police Chief Thomas E. Coon. He was to appear in Municipal Court later for a hearing.

Ohio Edison Begins Service Building

Nevada Youth Top Winner at Ohio State Fair

Richard Gerber, 17, of near Nevada was named the winner of the sweepstakes trophy at the Ohio State Fair. The trophy is presented each year to the exhibitor who receives the most money and ribbon awards during the eight days of the exposition.

He won 22 blue ribbons at the Junior Fair and collected $149 in premiums in sheep, poultry and hay exhibits.

Results of the 4-H and FFA beef cattle judging in the junior fair were released today by fair officials. The following area youths were among the winning exhibitors in the event:

Steve Link of near Sunbury, Suzanne Link of near Sunbury, Bill Eperson of near Galion, Gene Hitchcock of Milford Center, Sherry Link of near Sunbury, and Wanda Mae Jones of near Cardington.

In the dairy cattle show for 4-H and FFA members, the following youths from the Marion area won ribbons or cash:

Richard Jump of Kenton, Ray Weininger of Sycamore, John W. Shultz of Galena, Rex Redding of Kenton, Glen Thiel of Upper Sandusky, Clifford Jump of Kenton, Paul W. Clay of LaRue, Ruby A. Cressinger of Bucyrus, Paul A. Burgderfer of McCutchenville, Jay E. Pfeiffer of Kenton, Thomas F. Issler of near Richwood and Richard Taylor of Marysville.

Pfeiffer's entries were picked as champion and reserve champion of the Jersey contest.

name is Era—Jouri Alexandrovich Vasilevsky, who is Era's husband; and Sasha, about 5, the marshal's granddaughter. Sasha's parents are Era and Jouri.

The whole episode started during the preceding month at the summit conference in Geneva.

Eisenhower and Zhukov had not seen each other for nearly 10 years when they met at the opening session of the Big Four.

Also on hand for the reunion were Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev, the Communist party boss.

Passes Up Wedding

Khrushchev told Eisenhower that Zhukov had been so eager to see him again that the marshal passed up staying on in Moscow for the wedding of his daughter, Ella.

That evening the President was host to Zhukov and other members of the Soviet delegation at dinner. It was there that Eisenhower gave Zhukov two wedding gifts for the daughter—a portable radio and a pen inscribed with Eisenhower's name.

And it was a couple of weeks later that reports began to get into print that there actually had been no wedding, and that Zhukov apparently had no daughter.

The photograph of Zhukov and his family and the marshal's note to the President add up to a "pretty good rebuttal" of those reports, Hagerty told newsmen Friday at Eisenhower's vacation headquarters here.

Hagerty would not disclose the text of the Zhukov note.

Eisenhower has not replied to Zhukov, Hagerty said, but did ask Charles E. Bohlen, the U. S. ambassador to Moscow, to thank the marshal for the photograph.

The summer White House also announced Friday that Herold Hunt 53-year-old professor of education at Harvard University, is the President's choice to succeed Nelson A. Rockefeller as undersecretary of health, education and welfare. Rockefeller was made an administrative assistant to Eisenhower several months ago. Hunt is a Republican.

World corn production for 1954-55 is estimated at more than five and one-half billion bushels.

Boy, 3, Is Injured In Traffic Mishap

One person was injured slightly in one of three minor traffic accidents investigated Friday by Marion police.

Hurt in a collision at Orchard and W. Center Sts. at 1:13 p.m. was Theodore Young Jr., 3, of No. 1 Schoenlaub Ct. He was a passenger in a car driven by Betty May Busler of 144 Jefferson St. which was involved in the collision with a car driven by S. C. Speer, 59, of near Prospect. The boy was taken to the Smith Clinic for treatment of bruises of his left arm and side.

Each of the other two accidents resulted in less than $100 total damage, police estimated.

Car Strikes Fence

State highway patrolmen are investigating an accident which occurred early this morning on Route 95 just west of Marion.

A car which apparently failed to negotiate the curve in front of the Whirlpool Corp. left the road and damaged 30 feet of the Whirlpool fence and three posts.

Patrolmen are trying to learn who the driver of the car was. Minor damage resulted to the car.

Bullet Enters Home

An apparently stray rifle bullet narrowly missed striking a Marion woman in her home Friday. Mrs. Barbara Hudkins of 342 Owens St. called police at 2:45 p.m. and said she and a plumber were inside her home when they heard the crack of a rifle. A fraction of a second later the slug hit a piece of pipe the plumber was holding in his hand, she said. She did not tell police the name of the plumber.

Dog 'Stolen' by Mistake

LONDON (AP) — Constable Bingham found a terrier dog crouching in a doorway near London's busy Trafalgar Square Friday night and took it to the police station.

A short while later the station house phone rang and an irate woman complained "I put my dog out for an airing on the doorstep and someone saw one of your policemen steal it."

Shown is the burned out six-story building of the Carr-Consolidated Biscuit Co.

Phone Workers Set for Strike At Ohio Bell Co.

CLEVELAND (AP) — A "state of strike" against the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. was on today throughout Ohio, although the CIO Communications Workers failed to set a specific time for the firm's 16,000 workers to walk off their jobs and put up picket lines.

The union called the "state of strike" after negotiations with the company went past a midnight deadline without settlement of their wage dispute.

The talks were recessed until today.

Thomas Mitchell, state director of the union, issued the declaration. He said:

"Any action taken by our people will be guided by what we think is the most opportune time for such action."

Ohio Bell has taken the position that the union could not strike legally, because the union had not served a required 60-day notice for termination of its contract, which was to have expired Aug. 21.

But Mitchell has said the company was given a 60-day notice for contract modification, enabling the union to call a strike legally.

Spokesmen for the company could not be reached for comment on the union's latest action.

The communications workers have demanded a "substantial" wage increase, but have declined to make public their specific demands.

A company offer of a $1.50 to $4 weekly general increase was rejected by the union.

Some nursery stock has been burned but the 20 million dollar a year cut flower crop has not been hard hit as yet.

Los Angeles, with a plentiful supply from the distant Colorado River and the high Sierra, continued to use unprecedented amounts of water. However, several less fortunate neighboring communities reported indications of shortages and invoked water curtailment plans.

Heat sufferers flocked by the thousands to beaches and parks. An extra shift of lifeguards maintained jeep patrols until midnight at Santa Monica as crowds continued to jam the strand after dark.

Park Open All Night

Los Angeles' big Elysian Park, normally closed at 9:30 p.m., remained open all night so that hundreds might camp out there last night, as they did the night before.

Heavy mortality among poultry and rabbits was reported throughout Southern California. San Diego County alone estimated its losses up to 300,000 chickens and turkeys, plus thousands of rabbits. At least 250,000 chickens were reported dead in Orange County. A bulldozer covered them at a Huntington Beach dump.

Sample temperatures yesterday: Long Beach 110—an all-time high; San Gabriel 110; Montebello 109; Burbank 108; Pasadena 107.

University Plans Air Research Units

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UP)—The University of Michigan's Engineering Research Institute, which handles research problems for outside agencies, has announced plans for construction of an aeronautical research building.

The ERI is headed by Richard Folsom. He said the 34-year-old organization has for years funneled research problems from industry, government and other groups to faculty members as well as to its own staff of technicians. The contracts from outside agencies amount to better than $8,000,000 a year, he said.

The ERI, which has dozens of laboratories scattered about the campus here has done research on beach erosion, made harbor studies, and is doing work for the government connected with national defense against aerial attack.

Folsom said that with "some ERI funds from outside contracts" the new aeronautics engineering research building will be constructed. It will include a high-speed wind tunnel, an aircraft propulsion laboratory and a pumping station.

Construction is expected to begin this summer.

Church History Started

CORYDON, Ia. (UP) — Mrs. Eva Tedford Miles, 79, is compiling the 100-year history of the Corydon Methodist Church. A prolific writer, who turns out 10 to 15 letters a day, Mrs. Miles also has written the medical history of Wayne County.

Defends Democrats on Foreign Policy

Sen. Stennis Takes Issue With GOP Policy Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Stennis (D-Miss) said today that Democrats in Congress got President Eisenhower "off the ground" toward a change in foreign policy which has brought face-to-face discussion with Russia of international problems.

Stennis, a member of the Senate Armed Service Committee, took exception to Senate Republican Policy Committee charges that Democrats had supported Eisenhower's foreign policies "because they simply did not dare to do otherwise."

Got Program Off Ground

"I think it is clear," Stennis said in an interview, "that Sen. George (D-Ga) and others got the President off the ground in the international area."

George, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, was an early, prominent advocate to a top-level big power meeting this year. The chiefs of state subsequently did meet at Geneva.

Stennis also took issue with other points the GOP Policy Committee laid down Friday in a blueprint for next year's battle with the Democrats for control of Congress.

The 26-page compilation of suggested speech - making material, sent to Republican senators, accused Democrats in Congress of "wrecking Eisenhower's proposals on school, highway and atomic ship construction.

Assails Truman

It assailed what it termed former President Truman's refusal to admit Communist infiltration in government, lashed out at "bribery" in his administration and called his party's high-support farm program "suicidal."

While the GOP committee called Congress' rebuff of the Eisenhower highway program "an excellent example of Democratic wrecking," Stennis said he hadn't seen any "real evidence" of administration efforts to work out either highway or school construction legislation.

The Mississippian said the administration had made "no serious effort to adapt its plan to the highway problem at the state level."

Stennis said that "instead of obstruction, it was a case of Congress having to work out a practical bill without proper help and planning by the administration." He predicted the Democratic-controlled Congress will pass a highway bill next year.

Cat Buried Alive; Police Seek 'Meanest' Person

A new candidate for the meanest person in town was the object of a police investigation Friday.

It started when Mrs. Aaron Unroe of 873 Henry St. called police at 10:36 a.m. to report a case of cruelty to an animal.

She reported that her pet cat had been missing for about five days and had been found buried alive — and still alive — in a hole dug in a neighbor's back yard.

The neighbors had been away for several days and when they returned noticed that the top part of a birdbath in their back yard was lying on the ground, Mrs. Unroe told police.

When the bird bath top was picked up, there in a hole in the ground was Mrs. Unroe's cat. It was literally down to nothing but skin and bones, she said. While the cat was still alive it had lost all its hair and had lost considerable weight, she said.

New-Type Ceramic Coating Developed

CHICAGO (UP) — Radically new and flexible ceramic coatings will soon be available to industrial firms as the result of a process developed at the Illinois Institute of Technology.

Called "solution" ceramics, the new coatings differ from the conventional ones in that they are not brittle and can be applied to a surface at a few hundred degrees Fahrenheit.

Officials at the Institute pointed out a number of its unusual features:

1. Application is easy and requires neither expensive equipment nor protected heating.

2. Temperature required by the coating process is far lower than that required for porcelain enamel.

3. Thickness of coatings can be controlled accurately. While films as thick as .01 inch can be deposited, some coatings only a few millionths of an inch thick have been made.

4. Coatings are less hard than ordinary ceramic materials. This allows sheet metals coated with solution ceramics to be stamped after coating.

Rescuer of Stalled Auto Told He Made Mistake

RUTLAND, Vt. (UP) — When John Rowell spotted an abandoned car stalled on a railway crossing here, he leaped behind the wheel, drove the disabled vehicle clear just moments before the arrival of a freight train.

Two women who had jumped from the car minutes earlier thanked Rowell but remarked:

"You shouldn't have done it. The car was getting old anyway."

necessitated an additional million troops successfully to carry out the occupation of Japan."

Lauds Emperor

The general described Hirohito as "the man who contributed the most to the happy results which came after the signing of the peace treaty."

He said, however, that Hirohito's part "has never been adequately or fairly portrayed." One of those present at MacArthur's Waldorf Towers suite recounted the general's words after the conference with Shigemitsu broke up.

Ten years ago Friday, MacArthur accepted Japan's surrender on the deck of the battleship Missouri. The surrender was signed for Japan by Shigemitsu, at that time also foreign minister.

Friday, Shigemitsu, linked arms companionably with his conqueror of 10 years ago.

They shook hands and smiled at each other.

"Glad to see you. It has been a long time. Glad to see you," said MacArthur.

Favors Release

The general told Shigemitsu, who was sentenced to seven years as a war criminal, that he believes all military war criminals of World War II now in prison should be released in custody of their own governments.

He also said that he personally opposed war trials, both in Nuernberg and Tokyo.

"Their intent, of course, was to establish higher moral standards for the waging of war. I don't think they have succeeded in bringing about those high motives," the general said.

MacArthur said the United States objected to Shigemitsu's trial as a war criminal. Russia, however, insisted he be tried and threatened to drop out of the war trials if Shigemitsu was set free.

"It was a tragedy that they did not," MacArthur added.

Shigemitsu was paroled by MacArthur, over the protests of Russia, after serving two years.

Recalling the grim moment of surrender, Shigemitsu remarked:

"I didn't think then that I would be here now."

Jackson County Sheriff Files for Another Trial

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (AP)—Motion for a new trial has been filed by attorneys for Jackson County Sheriff David L. Trago. The sheriff was convicted last Tuesday of contributing to the delinquency of a 17-year-old Gallipolis airman. He was sentenced to one year in jail and fined $1,000 and court costs.

In filing the motion yesterday, counsel for the 51-year-old father of 13 children alleged errors by the court, including irregularities in selection of a jury. The motion said the verdict was not sustained by sufficient evidence and that evidence prejudicial to the defendant was admitted over defense objections.

Judge Francis White of Athens, who heard the case on assignment, is vacationing in Canada.

Wrecked Car Pilfered

Pilfering of a wrecked car while it was stored on a lot at the rear of the Short-Ford garage on N. Main St. was reported to police at 5:10 p.m. Friday. Police were told that a radio, battery and spare tire were taken from the car and that these items made up some 60 per cent of the total value of the wrecked car.

Gamble on Maglie Fails, Cleveland Drops to Third

Chisox Rap 14 Hits, Yanks Clip Nats for Second Place

CLEVELAND (AP)—Did that 8-1 victory over Cleveland's Indians Friday night fill the heart of the Chicago White Sox manager with a burning conviction that his team will win the American League pennant?

"I'll bet I've heard that question a thousand times," Marty Marion observed over a telephone in his hotel room here.

In just that form?

"No, how about it? Did he figure his men would sweep the remaining three games in the series: And then stay right on top in the race?

"One victory doesn't mean anything. We just put that one behind us and start thinking about the next one, and then the one after that."

Marion paused and decided that maybe the victory was worth some sort of evaluation:

"The boys are pretty enthused about it. They've been great and, as I've said before, I feel we're going to take the pennant."

Lopez Silent

Cleveland Manager Al Lopez was silent after the shellacking, one of the worst beatings his club has absorbed this season.

Indeed, his Indians appeared almost helpless as they were dropped into third place at the hands of Jack Harshman's four-hit pitching and the 14-hit barrage the White Sox slammed off a file of five Cleveland moundsmen for their fourth straight triumph.

The lone Cleveland run was on Ralph Kiner's 16th homer to lead off the sixth inning. Twice, in the first and third innings, Harshman struck out Larry Doby for the third out with the bases loaded.

Harshman struck out a total of eight, also walking eight, while winning his ninth, his fourth over Cleveland. In 40 innings against Cleveland this season. Harshman has allowed only 11 runs on 24 hits and has struck out 33.

Minoso Leads

Minnie Minoso was the offensive leader in last night's victory. He opened a three-run Chicago fourth with a single, singled in a run in the fifth and blasted a two-run homer as the Sox scored their final four runs in the seventh.

Cleveland starter Sal Maglie lasted only 3 1-3 innings and three runs, followed by Art Houtteman and three other reliefers.

Early Wynn, out of action eight days with a strained elbow, starts for the Tribe today against southpaw Billy Pierce.

Although last night's result does not fit the cycle, September is the month when the Indians usually win a lot. Last season they steamed down that stretch with a 16-7 mark. They had 16-8 in 1953 and 19-5 in 1952.

In order to win the 95 games that Manager Al Lopez says will take the pennant, the Indians must come up with a September song of around 16-7.

Lemon, Garcia Named

The probable pitchers for tomorrow's doubleheader are Bob Lemon and Mike Garcia for the Indians against Dick Donovan and Connie Johnson for the Sox.

To cheer up Vic Wertz, who is still in polio isolation at Lakeside Hospital, the Indians have sent him an enlarged team picture with get well messages from all the players. Wertz is recuperating nicely, the hospital says.

The Yankees, meanwhile, claimed second place all for themselves, a half game behind Chicago, as Whitey Ford one-hit Washington and Mickey Mantle delivered a three-run homer in a 4-2 triumph.

All of which left the Indians 1½ games behind the White Sox, fighting to gain at least a split with Chicago while confronted with two doubleheaders in the next three days.

The White Sox, too, have a pair of twinbills ahead — Sunday at Cleveland and Monday at Detroit —but Harshman, pitching out of his own jams, gave Manager Marty Marion's mound staff a complete game and a rest. Cleveland, however, gambled and lost with Sal (0-2) Maglie—putting the pressure on sore-arm Early Wynn today and Bob Lemon and Mike Garcia Sunday with the hope that the "scrubs" can beat Kansas City Labor Day.

3 Holes-in-One Scored in Golf Tourney Action

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Even a par shattering performance by the touring golf pros couldn't steal the spotlight from amateur Bill Whedon in the first round of the $20,000 Insurance City Open tournament.

While Sam Snead and Mike Souchak ripped off birdies Friday to share the lead with 66s, Whedon, lightly regarded young player from Farmington, Conn., scored two amazing holes-in-one.

Whedon, 28, scored his aces, for what must be a record for a major tournament, within the space of five holes.

He used five iron on the 168-yard fifth and watched his ball trickle up against the flagstaff.

Then, with a morning mist hiding the ninth green 208 yards away, Whedon picked out a No. 3 iron and whaled away. Neither caddies nor players saw it, but the ball went into the cup.

Whedon finished his round with a 36-39—75.

Gene Littler, Palm Springs, Calif. professional, joined the hole-in-one parade with an ace on the 164-yard 13th hole. Littler, who finished the day in a three-way tie for 12th place with his 35-34—69, used a No. 5 iron.

One stroke behind the leaders going into today's second round was Art Wall Jr., Pocono Manor, Pa., who had a 32-35—67.

Yesterday's STARS

Pitching—Whitey Ford, Yankees, hung up his second major league one-hitter while limiting Washington to Carlos Paula's seventh inning single in a 4-2 victory.

Batting — Minnie Minoso, White Sox, drove in three runs with two singles and home run in 8-1 triumph over Indians.

Fights Last Night

New York—Carmelo Costa, 129¼, Brooklyn, outpointed Bobby Bell, 126½, Youngstown, Ohio, 10

Manchester, England — Artie Towne, 159, New York, outpointed Les Allen, 159, Great Britain, 10.

Klu Collects No. 44, Reds Clip Braves

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Art Fowler, erratic Cincinnati Redleg righthander, shut out the Milwaukee Braves on six singles last night.

The 2-0 victory enabled the Cincinnatians to pick up a game on the fourth-place New Yorkers, who now lead the fifth spot Reds by 3½ games.

Fowler, often an easy target for opposition hitters, was cool and collected last night. No Brave got past second base. He gave up only one walk while striking out three in gaining his 10th victory against nine defeats. In spring training the 32-year-old pitcher said he wanted to go home to Conterse, S. C., with a bigger string of victories than he had last season, when he compiled a 12-10 record as a rookie. He started out, however, with four straight losses. He evened his record July 4 and has been touch and go since.

Providing the power for Fowler's latest victory were home runs by Ted Kluszewski, whose homers average one in about three games, and Rocky Bridges, who hadn't hit the ball over a fence since 1953.

Klu's homer in the fourth arched over the rightfield fence. It was the home run king's 44th of the season. Rocky's just cleared the left field fence in the seventh It was only the third in his major league career.

Both homers and six of the seven Redleg hits were off Warren Spahn, who went down to his 14th defeat. He's won 13.

Pitching tonight in the second game of the three set series will be rookie lefthander Don Gross for the Reds and righthander Lew Burdette for the Braves.

Trinity Clinches Championship In Church League Competition

Trinity clinched the Church League championship in play last night at Garfield Park.

A 12 inning, 6-5 victory over its nearest pursuer, Church of the Brethren, in the longest Church loop tilt of the season, gave Trinity the crown.

Mull opened the bottom of the twelfth with a triple and Mulvaine singled to end the two hour and 45 minute contest.

St. Mary whipped Greenwood 12-7 in the other Church loop game last night.

After assuming an early lead, Trinity was forced to come from behind with a seventh inning marking to offset two scored by the losers in the top half of the same frame Both teams scored once in the second and after Trinity scored thrice in the second on Don Johnson's three-run homer. Brethren started its comeback bid with single runs in the fourth and sixth.

Trimmer limited Brethren to but three hits in hurling Trinity to victory No. eight in 11 starts His teammates backed his mound performance with an 11-hit attack off Garrison of Brethren.

Ackley pounded out a triple for the winners. Miller, Young and Gamble collected the Brethren hits.

St. Mary, behind Norris' four hitter, scored in every inning to win easily over Greenwood.

Three markers in each of the first two frames and one in the third proved enough to win. St. Mary added two-run clusters in each of the next two frames off Miley and one in the sixth to complete their scoring.

Greenwood scored once in the first, twice in the second, once in the fifth and three times in the final frame for its run production.

Larry Leser and Shoemaker both smashed home runs to power a 13-hit attack by St Mary. Tom Moran and Burke both had three hits Ferriman homered for the losers and scored three runs.

Indianapolis Stops Bid by Toledo Sox

By The Associated Press

Three-hit pitching wasn't good enough to win one game in the American Association last night.

Southpaw Dick Templeton, St. Paul ace, also walked four batters, permitted one to advance two bases on a wild pitch and lost to Omaha, 2-1.

Indianapolis, buried in seventh place, seriously dimmed Toledo's playoff hopes, edging the fifth place Sox, 2-1. Denver regained second by itself in the standings by beating Minneapolis' pennant winners twice, 4-2 in both games. Louisville shaded Charleston, 6-5.

Browns Whipped by Rams 38-21 Despite Early Lead

By The Associated Press

Detroit's Lions knocked off the Pittsburgh Steelers, 24-0, while the Los Angeles Rams came from behind to whip the Cleveland Browns, 38-21, in National Football League exhibitions Friday night.

Bobby Layne broke into the Detroit lineup after a two-game layoff because of a shoulder injury. He tossed one touchdown pass and set up other scoring opportunities in the game played at Miami. The Lions led at the half, 14-0, and coasted to victory.

At Los Angeles, the Rams spotted the Browns a two-touchdown advantage in the first period before they began to roll. The Rams exploded for three touchdowns in the final quarter to clinch the victory before 35,948 fns.

Rookie halfback Bob Smith from Nebraska scored from two yards out on a 64-yard drive by the Browns in the first period and John Pettibon recovered a Ram fumble in the end zone for another touchdown. George Ratterman passed to Darrel Brewster for 16 yards and the final Brown touchdown in the second quarter.

Billy Wade's pass for 40 yards to end Tom Fears scored the first Ram tally. Les Richter booted a 14-yard field goal to make the score 21-10 for Cleveland at the half.

The Rams stopped a Cleveland march six inches from the goal in the third and Los Angeles marched back, with Tommy McCormick making the final yard for a touchdown.

Trabert Shows Old Form for Nationals Test

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP) —All the talk about an all-Australian final in the National Tennis championship died to a whisper today — and the fellow who applied the silencer was Tony Trabert, American's defeated and deflated Davis Cup ace.

Trabert opened his quest for the national title Friday with an effortless 6-0, 6-4, 6-1 victory over England's Roger Becker. The job took exactly 53 minutes and Trabert never looked better.

Lew Hoad, Ken Rosewall and Co. probably breathed a collective sigh of relief that the Davis Cup was not up for grabs this weekend. At the rate Trabert is playing, no one is going to beat him.

"I guess I had a good day," grinned Tony. "That Becker is a better player than the scores showed."

Trabert is in the tougher half of the draw and if he gets down to the semifinal, he'll meet Hoad — assuming Lew makes it, too.

Defending champion Vic Seixas got a bye in the first round and was slated to meet John E. Barret of England.

In the women's division, top-seeded Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., the defending champion, led the way into the second round with a 6-2, 6-0 victory over Ruth Jeffery of Melrose, Mass.

Cincinnati Nine Preps for Title Diamond Clash

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) —Cincinnati, rescued from elimination on three consecutive days by rubber-armed Ron Moeller, faces Washington, D. C., tonight for the American Legion junior baseball championship.

Moeller, a 16-year-old southpaw, dealt Washington its first defeat of the tournament and its first of the year against junior Legion opposition Friday night, 10-5, with a glossy four-inning relief chore. It earned him his third straight victory of the playoff.

Entering the game in the sixth inning with Washington leading 5-3, Moeller struck out 10 and yielded only two hits the rest of the way.

Cincinnati overtook the easterns with a three-run seventh inning, added another in the eighth and clinched it with three in the ninth.

Eye Injury Postpones Olson Bout With Dykes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Manager Sid Flaherty said today that Bobo Olson was cancelling a non-title bout Sept 21 against Bobby Dykes in Miami because of an eye injury.

Flaherty said his boxer suffered an injured eye in the bout against Joey Giambra last Friday and that a doctor's report showed it was still inflamed.

Finishing Child's Room Is Rewarding

Wood Paneling Provides Fitting Background For Youths

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER
AP Real Estate Editor

Finishing off a separate room for a school boy or school girl can be a profitable project. You can find lots of authorities (probably with no children of their own) who will pontificate on the theme of how a private room contributes to the development of an adolescent's personality. But in plain words, there's no denying that the youngster will like the idea and besides it can add value to your house.

Whether this room involves conversion of an attic, a breezeway, a garage, or a corner of a dry and airy basement, it should not be regarded as a temporary expedient. You may think that within too few years, Junior or Sister will finish school and soon fly the coop. However, good use can always be found for a well-planned and permanently finished extra room.

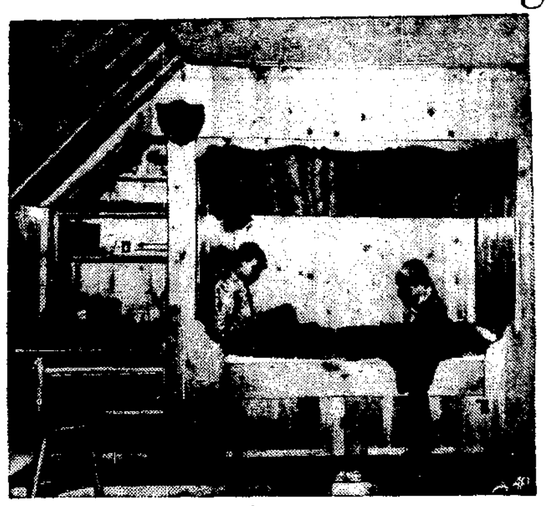
OF COURSE, all construction work is relatively expensive nowadays, but it is easy to make a justifiable home improvement on a time payment basis. Banks and savings associations readily advance funds for such projects, especially when the FHA insures their loan and you pay for the insurance. In other cases, where there is an "open-end" clause in a mortgage, you can borrow back some of the money you already have paid off and either extend the life of the mortgage without paying more each month, or increase the remaining payments.

A wood paneled room is especially appropriate for a boy as well as for future use as a den. This has an informal and rustic tone and still it has dignity, too, because of its early American background.

You can get gorgeous effects with wood paneling without spending a fortune. One of its big advantages is the fact that you don't have to redecorate if you stain the wood or wax it to keep its natural appearance.



Knotty Pine Paneling Makes an Appropriate Boy's Room.

Some of the most beautiful pine paneling in historic houses never was finished in any manner. It was merely allowed to mellow with age and whatever oil or grease it picked up from the air.

Or if you prefer, you can paint any kind of wood paneling in the Williamsburg style. The only trouble with painting it is that it will call for a tough removal job if anyone ever wants to get down to the natural wood.

A GOOD TIP on staining tongue and groove decorative paneling, such as knotty pine, is to stain and seal the boards on both sides and all edges when you have them cut to size and before you nail them into place. This point is stressed by the Western Pine Association of Portland, Ore., in its documentary film, "Operation Attic." It insures you against having unfinished cracks show up in the course of natural movement in the wall, such as from expansion, contraction or settling.

Another sound suggestion from the pine producers is to store your lumber for a few days in the room where you plan to use it. The boards should be stacked with strips separating them to allow for complete air circulation. This permits the lumber to adjust to the prevailing temperature and humidity of the room before it is nailed and rigid. Any scrap wood or short pieces of wood lath can be used for strips.

These are good ideas whether you are using Southern yellow pines, pecky cypress, or any other kind of wood. And it also is wise to get acquainted with all of the various woods available at your local lumber yard. The Western Sugar and Idaho white pine, as well as the associated Douglas and white firs, red and incense cedars, larch, Englemann spruce and Lodgepole pine.

First Aid for the Ailing House

By ROGER WHITMAN

Q: We installed a basement under our old house, using concrete blocks. A waterproofing was applied on the outside and drain tile was laid around the foundation footings. Before the excavation was filled we fixed the downspout. After a heavy rain lasting for several days, one spot under the area of the downspout appeared and water forced its way through. Now, after each heavy rain, water seeps through at this point. How can I waterproof the area?

A: Evidently the downspout empties into the ground directly around the foundation. The remedy is to connect the downspout outlet to drain tile that is connected to a dry well, at least 15 feet from the basement walls. I am sure that if this is done further waterproofing would not be necesary.

Q: We park our car in the driveway and through doing this our driveway is marred with ugly grease spots. Is there any way of cleaning up these spots?

A: Scrape off the thickest part of the grease with a knife blade. Much of the oil and grease can be taken up by covering the spots with an oil absorbing powder, which your oil burner man or auto service station will have in stock. If not, use dry portland cement. Spread either powder in a thick layer and when it becomes discolored, remove and put on clean powder. Repeat the process. The remaining discoloration might come out by scrubbing with a hot solution of trisodium phosphate or washing soda, using about two pounds in each gallon of water. Some auto service stations also have a special cleaner for the purpose.

Q: About two years ago we moved into a brand new home. The living room has one mahogany wall. Nothing was ever applied on this wall such as varnish, wax, etc. The wall has now become faded and there are white marks, also dirt spots. Could you advise how to restore and preserve the finish?

A: The surface discoloration and dirt can be removed by rubbing with a "00" then a "000" sandpaper. When the wood is smooth, wipe off all traces of dust with turpentine. If the wall is exposed to sunlight, it would be wise to stain the wood with a light mahogany stain; then finish with a coat of pure, fresh, white shellac thinned half and half with denatured alcohol, and finish with a gloss or semi-gloss varnish.

Building Permits

Eleven building permits with a total valuation of $9,950 were issued at the Marion City Clerk's office in the week from Aug. 26 through Sept. 1. The permits all were for improvements to existing properties and buildings. They were:

Ohio Sprinkler Co., 411 Madison Ave., office building addition, $5,000.

Josephine Buller, Glad St., addition of room, $300.

Charles Brooks, 418 Girard Ave., bathroom, $400.

Amos and Viola Davis, 124 Carhart St., enlarge porch, $150.

M. E. Kates, 231 Reed Ave., addition, $1,500.

Carl Kull, Bain Ave. and Vine St., addition to garage, $500.

Wendell and Patricia Manon, 423 Forest St., enclose patio, $150.

William L. and Ethel McCaulley, 490 Smith St., bath and utility room, $700.

Arthur and Ethel Miley, 528 Davids St., addition to garage, $100.

Herman and Bernice Smith, 1014 Oak Grove Ave., bath, $200.

George S. Spraggins, 250 Reed Ave., two-stall garage, $950.

Special Roof Coatings

There are, in the main, three types of roofs on which special coatings are used for preservation and beautification.

For wood shingle roofs, there are special preservative stains. New shingles should be dipped in such a preservative before they are attached.

For flat roofs, built up of layers of felt and asphalt, protective fibered or unfibered roof coatings — or roof cements — or asphalt emulsion should be used.

Tin roofs are safeguarded with the types of roof paints formulated for metal surfaces. Special metal primers must first be applied.

There is more feed value in native grasses cut early.

VA Says Requests Should Be Turned In by End of Month

Appraisal requests for 30-year, no down payment GI loans on homes not affected by FHA credit controls, but which still may be eligible, must be received by Sept. 30, the VA regional office in Cleveland announced today.

The affected homes are those upon which the necessary paper work had been completed by FHA before their controls went into effect on July 30. VA has instructed its field stations to get satisfactory evidence of homes not covered by FHA credit controls before excluding them from VA credit requirements.

VA credit requirements, which also become effective on July 30, call for a two per cent down payment and a loan maturity not to exceed 25 years. Those excluded from these requirements may be financed up to 30 years and only the closing costs need be paid.

ENAMELING WOOD

New wood that is to be enameled should first have enamel undercoater applied to its surface. Then, all cracks and nail head indentations should be filled with putty. Level the surface as your work so you'll have the minimum of sanding to do after the putty is dry. Flow the enamel on from the tip of your brush.

Navy Veteran Builds Swimming Pool

Home Improvements Are Short-Term Tasks For This Man

By ALBERT S. FULLING
Associated Press Staff Writer

Do-it-yourself is no new catch phrase for the home gardener.

While other phases of activity around the house in recent years suddenly have been converted to a popular do-it-yourself category, it's old stuff to the gardener.

He's been digging, planting, weeding, spraying and the like so long that many a green thumb is a calloused one.

—:—

BUT THERE always comes a time when the gardener leans on the rake handle and gazes wistfully over his outdoor living room. He wishes he had a swimming pool, shaded patio, or perhaps a fish pond. The cost factor many times slows his thoughts to a crawl.

These projects—and many others—can be done well within the economy budget, providing you enjoy working and don't want everything done tomorrow.

A case history well could illustrate this:

Five years ago, Otto A. Raeder moved into a new ranch house in suburban Paramus, N.J. Approaching home improvement as a pastime, Raeder in this period has made a four-tier terrace, swimmig pool, barbecue pit and fish pool, and now he's putting in a slate garden patio.

He's not one to over-do the work either. Raeder mixes one wheelbarrow of cement a day. When it is used up, that's it for the day.

A lot of stone goes into the project. Whenever the Raeder family goes on a trip, they haul back a few stones in the back of their car from their visit.

—:—

THE SWIMMING pool, of stone and cement, is 10 feet wide and 16 feet long. It slopes gradually from both ends to a 4 to 4½-foot depth at the center. Raeder used an old washing machine to serve as a filter, and enclosed it in a masonry box with removable cover.

Water is pumped from the pool through cheesecloth. Some of the water goes to the lawn. Some is returned to the pool after filtering.

The fish pond, framed by shrubbery and surrounded by low-growing plantings, is another attractive addition to the garden scene.

A former Navy chief petty officer, Raeder adapted a shipboard canopy idea to make a sunshade for the patio he now is constructing. The framework is of galvanized pipe. A white canvas shade is laced to the pipes as well as to hooks on the side of the house. The pipe itself is attached to the house with screws. The canvas top, with hem and metal rings for lacing, was made to order by a tarpaulin company.

Aside from a few items such as the canvas and the pipe which must be purchased, Raeder's only other cost on his projects has been for cement.

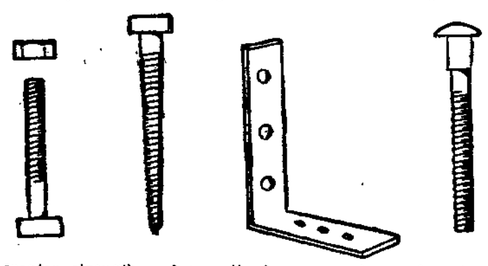
Work and ingenuity supplied the finished products.

DO-IT-YOURSELF. It's an old gardening custom and this swimming pool in a garden is one of the results.

YOUR HOME . . . Today and Tomorrow

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

At this particular time, when homeowners are attempting everything from changing a washer to building a complete house, it might be well to be familiar with some of the basic items which are used for heavy fastening or securing. In short, the units which give far greater strength and security than ordinary screws or nails.



The first illustration shows a plain bolt and nut. These are used by boring a hole through the two pieces to be fastened, passing the bolt through and tightening the nut. Washers should be used under both bolthead and nut for the best job.

The second drawing shows a lag-screw. These are used in the assembly of heavy timber work and offer tremendous strength. They are used by first boring a hole slightly smaller than the diameter of the screw and then turning it down with a wrench. The head of a lag-screw is square and does not have a slot like an ordinary screw. A washer should be used under the head.

The third illustration shows an angle iron. These are usually bored along each side to take screws. Where it is desired to fasten a wood member to another wood member at a direct 90-degree angle, there is nothing which makes a more secure joining. It has the strength of a dozen nails.

The fourth drawing shows a carriage bolt, an item with which most amateur workmen are not familiar. Note that the shank immediately below the mushroom head is square. This prevents the bolt from turning and becoming loose. These are used by boring a hole and driving the bolt in and are fastened with a nut over a flat washer.

Real Estate in Ohio Passes $20 Billion

Appraised value of all real and personal property in Ohio has passed the $20 billion mark, state auditor James A. Rhodes revealed today.

The appraisal is for 1954 on which taxes were collected in 1955. The latest figure is an increase of $742,657,240 over the 1953 appraisals.

In Marion County, the property is appraised at $128,339,210 according to Rhodes' report.

Six counties in the state have appraisals of more than one billion dollars. They are Cuyahoga, Hamilton, Franklin, Lucas, Summit and Montgomery.

ROOF CHECK NEEDED

A leaky roof on your home provides the most obvious outside entrance for destructive moisture. The roof structure must be watertight and as durable as possible. If the home-owner is to be spared the trouble and expense of both inside and outside repairs. It's a good time now to have your roof checked by an expert.

OUTDOOR ENAMEL

Don't be tempted to use regular house paint on garden or porch furniture. House paint is often formulated to chalk in such a manner that it cleans itself — an excellent quality when the paint is on a house. If such paint is used on garden furniture, however, it may rub off on your clothing.

CEDAR COMPARTMENT

Some people who would like to have moth-repellent cedar storage space just don't seem to have space for it in their homes. One answe is to build a cedar compartment in an existing closet. Use aromatic red cedar closet lining for this. The wood is available at most lumber yards, and each piece of cedar is tongued and grooved for easy application.

Tuft Density of Rug Has Cleaning Clue

One clue to the cleanability of a rug or carpet lies in the density of its tufts. The National Institute of Rug Cleaning reports that an increase in tuft density means an increase in cleanability.

Rugs and carpets have a certain number of face tufts per square inch. Recent NIRC research indicates that a mere 10 per cent increase in this number means an appreciable increase in ease of cleaning. Dense pile is easier to clean that sparse pile. It is easier to vacuum at home, and easier to clean in a professional rug cleaning plant.

In short, better quality rugs and carpets are easier to maintain than low-cost promotional goods. This increase in cleanability, says NIRC, is another reason for purchasing quality.

Trend Returns Shadow Lines In Panel Doors

It's an old-fashioned idea, but it's being widely revived in elegant homes today. The idea is to paint shadow lines in door panels to bring out the beauty of the paneling.

The distinguishing feature of interior panel doors (and entrance doors, too) is the interest created by the paneling, which looks almost carved into the wood. To emphasize this "bas relief" effect, the panels often are outlined with a contrasting color, or a tone related to the principal color of the door. The resulting three-dimensional effect makes the door an attractive object in itself, not just a functional apparatus separating two rooms.

Since most panel doors are made of ponderosa pine, a wood which readily takes any finish, an attractive two-tone paint job is easy to achieve.

Some home-owners treat a panel door as part of the room's color scheme. They decorate the door in two contrasting colors, repeating two colors used in the room furnishings or wallpaper.

Others paint all doors white, with silver-gray or a similar shade for shadow lines in the paneling. Neutral colors like these make the doors independent of the individual room colors, but establish an interesting color unity throughout the house.

The water ouzel or dipper has the unusual custom of winking one eye.

New Inventions Introduced for Home Markets

Air Cooler, Adhesive, Power Handle Among Items for Fall Trade

The Russians who visited Iowa farms recently and were impressed by American tractors should have taken a second look at the average homeowner's use of power mowers, power sweepers, power tillers, power snowplows and other automation in our backyards.

It's common today to see the owner of a good sized lawn riding around on a sulky-type mower like a farmer making hay in the sunshine. Sure, he does it partly for fun, but you can bet your hat he's keeping down his manpower cost.

For smaller lawns, the regular power mower has become accepted as a heart saver. In fact, the main trouble with the ordinary power mower is that it doesn't rake leaves, spade the garden, edge the flower beds and shovel the snow in the wintertime. So other power gadgets have been invented to do these jobs. Only problem is they add up to quite a bill because of all the gasoline motors they carry.

Now one manufacturer has devised a lightweight portable motor unit to fit on separate tools to do all of those jobs for you. You just put this power handle on whatever tool you want to use and it's motorized. The unit weighs 39 pounds, contains a 2¾-horsepower, four-cycle gasoline engine and can be switched from a lawn mower to a lawn sweeper, or any other garden machine, in 10 to 20 seconds.

On Fall Market

This power handle and its attachments are scheduled to be on the market early this fall and the manufacturer has about 40 other ideas in mind for it. Among them is a motorized wheelbarrow, a mobile sprayer and a stand-by generator to keep your food freezer, heating plant and some lights going during power line failures.

A new air cooling system has been worked out for homes equipped with circulating hot water heat. this comprises a water chiller to be installed next to your existing water heater in the basement and a new type of compact convector to replace present convectors or radiators. The new unit contains a three-speed fan to circulate room air over chilled coils and a drip connection to remove excess humidity from the air.

This new combination heating and cooling unit looks very much like a standard modern convector-radiator. Its cabinet measures 14 inches wide, 20 inches high and 6¾ inches deep. It fits within the standard stud spacing of 16 inches on centers. It can be recessed in the wall, semi-recessed, or free-standing.

A filter to clean the air is easily replaced. Motor and fan are rubber-mounted for silence and water used in the system is re-circulated.

The invention was first shown at last January's Heating and Ventilating Show in Philadelphia, but is now in volume production and going on the market.

Solves Problem

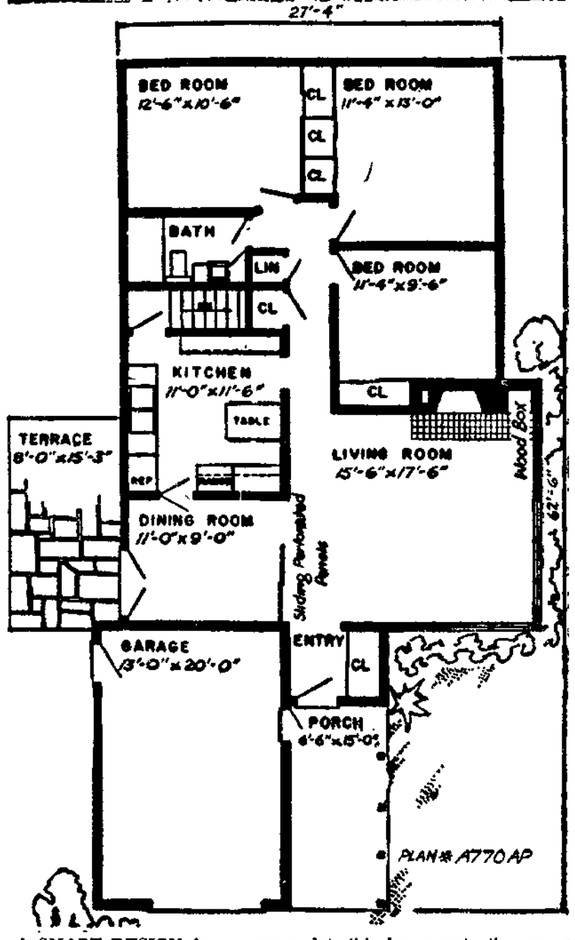
Chipping or drilling holes in tile to install towel racks and other bathroom fixtures can be a headache, as you may have discovered. Also when Mrs. Somebody changes her mind, you have some ugly plugs in the tile to try to conceal.

Now an Ohio inventor has solved this problem with a plastic adhesvie that is so strong that it will hold a little piece of metal to the tile—or to plaster, or glass, or wood—so firmly that the full weight of a man can't pull it off. Yet, if you want to remove it, you can take the wife's pressing iron, apply a little heat and slip it off cleanly. Nail polish remover takes off any remaining adhesive.

Howard F. Patterson of Dayton brought samples of his adhesive up to the office. One was a rectangle of steel with a picture hook welded to it and attached to a standard glazed clay tile. Placing the tile against the baseboard, Patterson invited us to stand on the hook. We did. The steel hook bent, but the base wouldn't budge from the tile.

Swatches of this adhesive material (it looks like shellacked cloth) will be on the market in hardware and housewares stores this fall.

Plan Is for Narrow Lot



A SMART DESIGN for a narrow lot, this house puts the garage close to the street to keep the driveway short and sets the living room back for privacy. The plan also is attractive from the side when envisioned on a corner lot. This is plan A770AP by Walter T. Anicka, 617 Forest St., Ann Arbor, Mich. The house has 1,240 square feet of floor area and a utility basement. The architect suggests a brick or stone chimney, asphalt shingle roof, ponderosa pine millwork for the large picture windows, mineral wool insulation and waterproof paper vapor barriers.

Ceramic Tiles

Tips on Repair of Homes

By ANDREW C. LANG
Associated Press Staff Writer

Do . . . remember that applying ceramic tiles to walls can now be done by the family handyman because of new special adhesives.

DO . . . prime the walls, whether plaster, wood or wallboard, with a mixture of shellac and denatured alcohol, mixed half and half.

DO . . . press the tiles in place with a slight twisting motion, but not so vigorously that the adhesive is pressed upward.

DO . . . know whether the tiles you bought are self-spacing; if they aren't, place toothpicks between the rows to allow room for filling the joints

DO . . . fill the joints with ready-mixed tile grout, applying it according to directions 24 hours after the tiles have been installed.

—:—

DONT . . . apply ceramic tiles over a rough wall until all irregularities have been smoothed.

DON'T . . . spread the adhesive over too large an area, as it begins to dry fairly rapidly.

DON'T . . . neglect to buy the necessary top and bottom course tiles (usually a different color) which will give your work a finished appearance.

DON'T . . . forget that the easiest and quickest way to cut tiles is with a tile cutter, which can be rented inexpensively.

DON'T . . . smoke or work in a room without ventilation if you are using one of the solvent-type adhesives.

—fill joints with grout, waiting at least 24 hours after tiles are installed.

Growing Pains

Large-Scale Gardening Not Advised for Amateur

By ALBERT S. FULLING
Associated Press Staff Writer

Large-scale home gardening can be accomplished successfully by the family which has:

Plenty of ground space.

Firm know-how of good soil and gardening practices.

Mechanized garden equipment.

Adequate water outlets in the garden area.

Lots of energy, ambition and stamina.

Provisions for freezing or canning the harvest.

This is best demonstrated by taking a case history, such as the gardening activities of Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Margetts, of New Vernon, N. J. He is an industrial lawyer and former New Jersey state treasurer.

They have about two acres under cultivation. The Mrs., with occasional help from a son and daughter, plants and keeps things under control during the day. The Mr. devotes evenings and full weekends to the heavy work.

—:—

THEIR EQUIPMENT includes power cultivator, two hand wheel cultivators, machine sprayer, rotary and reel mowers, and the like. The ground is plowed or rotortilled in the spring.

The vegetable garden includes corn, tomatoes, zuccini, beans, lettuce, rhubarb, beans, and fruits. The flower section includes about 60 rose bushes, annuals and perennials. They use hot and cold frames.

In addition, for an eventual money crop, they have planted 750 holly cuttings and 250 of boxwood. These are doing so well, that another 1,000 will be planted next year.

Mulching plays an important part in keeping down the work of weeding. Straw and grass clippings from surrounding fields and lawn area are used extensively.

The surplus produce is packaged and quick frozen for later use.

With an overall 30 acres, they have established enough growing feed supply to keep five Aberdeen Angus in a field enclosure.

Two deep wells with powerful pumps provide plenty of water. The water lines to the garden are buried beneath the frost line, with regularly spaced taps for providing proper moisture during dry spells.

—:—

WHILE THERE has been some vegetable damage from deer and rabbits, it has not resulted in extensive curtailment of crops.

Constant spraying, liquid and dust, keep the insect population in hand.

Of course, the economics of such gardening activity are this:

There's plenty of fresh air and exercise for all; there's fresh produce for the table—and you can't beat the taste of vegetables right out of the garden as compared to those from the market—

But if the investment in time and labor and equipment all is added and totaled against the harvest, the vegetable price comes high.

However, Mr. and Mrs. are graduate agronomists. Their gardening activities bring them joy, satisfaction and eventually profit as the holly and boxwood reach marketable growth.

It can be done, this large-scale gardening. But go over the list of necessities before you start.

Six-in-One Cabinet

HOLD-ALL wood cabinets are made to fit every kitchen storage need. The type shown has six sections, including a deep bread compartment, and roomy drawers for silverware, guest and "everyday" table linens, pot lids, trays, and household accounts.

Dodge Reports Show Highest Month for Ohio

CLEVELAND — Dodge Reports totals of contracts awarded for future construction just announced for Ohio show that July was the biggest single July in the history of the state. The July total was 34 per cent above July 1954 to reach $204,932,000. Figures were announced by Carl S. Bennett, regional vice president of F. W. Dodge Corporation, construction news and marketing specialists.

The July record pushed the cumulative total for 1955 to a record high level for the first seven months and 31 per cent ahead of 1954 with awards of $1,178,183,000.

Individual July totals compared with July 1954 were: nonresidential, up 69 per cent, at $75,955,000; residential, up 17 per cent at $93,900,000; heavy engineering, up 25 per cent, at $35,077,000.

Seven-months 1955 totals compared with the like 1954 period were: nonresidential, up 50 per cent at $461,109,000; residential, up 33 per cent at $560,371,000; heavy engineering, down six per cent at $156,703,000.

MORE BATHROOMS

More than one-fourth of all the new homes now being built are equipped with more than one bathroom, reports the Plumbing Fixture Manufacturers' Association.

On the House

Hints for Keeping Home Cooler in Summer Given

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER
AP Real Estate Editor

Houses, like closed automobiles in sun-baked parking lots, can be intolerable heat traps in hot weather. The way most of our houses are designed and built, the materials used in them, even the way we use our homes, make summer cooling a pretty complicated problem.

It seems that we just can't say "Let's air condition," unless we are prepared to pay unnecessary operating costs for a house not ready for efficient air conditioning. The color of the roof, the size and location of windows, trees in the yard, the amount of breeze through the attic, even the material we use for a shower curtain can mean many dollars in the family budget when we try to make a house cool.

DON'T THINK a bathroom shower curtain has nothing to do with comfort in the living room. A little thing like that has baffled engineers. C. W. Nessel, who served as an expert on the Austin, Texas, air-conditioned village, told us the other day of an interesting adventure with a wet shower curtain.

A homeowner complained that his air conditioned house was too hot during the morning, but perfectly cool in the afternoon when the outside temperature soared to 100 degrees. Tests showed abnormal humidity in this house immediately after 8 a.m. Humidity, of course, has a lot to do with keeping cool. The drier the air, the warmer you can stand it.

Well, the engineers found that a canvas shower curtain remained soaked after the family's morning baths. It took all morning for the curtain to dry—by evaporating its moisture throughout the house. As soon as a nonabsorbent plastic curtain was substituted, the problem was solved.

Keeping heat out of your house is the most important step toward keeping the place cool. This is the conclusion of the University of Illinois Small Homes Council, which has issued a comprehensive bulletin on summer comfort.

"If the sun's rays," says this study, "can be kept off the walls, glass areas, and the roof, and if the hot outdoor air can be kept from penetrating the house, the indoor temperature can be more easily held in check. Shading the house and the use of other sun controls (roof overhangs, sun screens, louvers) are the principal means of protecting the house from the sun's rays."

Shade trees to protect windows and roof on the south and west sides of a house are stressed in another booklet "Practical Pointers on Home Air Conditioning" just published by the United States Air Conditioning Corp., Minneapolis. Tree-shaded walls are only slightly warmer than the outside air, but walls unprotected from the sun run temperatures of 135 degrees and more. Unshaded roof temperatures have been recorded from 140 to 180 degrees, with attic temperatures as high as 150.

SO INSULATION and plenty of it becomes a must whether you attempt to cool your house with fans or with air conditioning. A new book, "Insulate and Air Condition Your Home," cites case studies to show that adequate insulation can reduce the first cost and operation of home air conditioning by as much as 50 per cent.

Co-authors Groff Conklin and Arthur M. Watkins advocate as much as 6 inches of mineral wool insulation in the floor of an attic. Conklin is a former builder and Watkins is an air conditioning engineer and associate editor of a leading building magazine. Their contention seems logical especially in view of the inevitable settlement encountered in loose insulating materials. A house may have 4 inches of insulation when it is built, but within a few years this may settle down to 2 inches.

Roof color is another matter. A white roof, or one of pink, yellow or other light shades, will bounce back as much as 50 per cent of the sun's heat, say the experts. A black roof will reflect only about 5 per cent of the heat. But while a white roof is cooler in summer, a black roof is warmer in winter. Maybe someone will soon invent seasonal slip covers for our roofs.

Two Children in Detroit Suffocate in Old Ice Box

DETROIT (AP) — Two young Detroit children suffocated when they were trapped in an unused ice box Friday.

They were Marvin Jones, 4, and his 3-year-old brother, Michael.

When found, the children were blue-lipped and frothing at the mouth.

They died enroute to the hospital.

They had been missing for an hour and a half.

A search was organized when their mother, Juanita, 28, noticed them missing from the backyard where they were playing.

Rites Set for Official

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Funeral services for Ernest Cornell, administrator of Ohio's Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, will be held Tuesday at 1 p.m. (EST) at the Schoedinger Funeral Home. Burial will be in Union Cemetery here. Cornell died unexpectedly yesterday at the age of 69. He apparently suffered a heart attack.

Jackie Cooper Grows Up; Makes Comeback in TV

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Jackie Cooper, after 30 years of show business stardom, finally has something working for him for the first time.

Jackie, only 33 now, owns a piece of "The People's Choice," a television comedy series which stars him and debuts Oct 6 over NBC-TV.

This good financial fortune for Jackie stems from the fact that he is one of the few Hollywood stars who ever looked at himself objectively.

Jackie, of course, was one of the greatest of all child stars and a box-office mint for MGM. Then he grew up, served in the Navy and came back to town to become an actor. It was the lowest ebb of a fabulous career.

"I was a confused, insecure young man," he recalls. "I became bitterly resentful of people who used to slap me on the shoulder and say, 'I remember you in "The Champ"—you were great."

"I wasn't great. The directors were great. I was just a kid who did what he was told. And what I wasn't told to do was done for me."

Came 1947 and he tested for a big part in a movie with Spencer Tracy.

"I was 25 at the time and the part called for a 21-year-old. I thought I should have got it but I didn't. Robert Walker got it instead.

"When I saw the picture on the screen, I knew why. Although I was 25, my thinking was immature and so was my acting. I knew why the director passed me in the test. At 25, I was even too immature to play a 21-year-old."

Cooper then did something few big stars would admit to doing.

"I went back east, worked in summer stock for less than peanuts. Did live television in the early days for $200 a throw. I knew if I wanted to make acting my life's work, I had better get the tools."

He did. In fact, he says his greatest experience as an actor was the year and a half he toured this country and England as Ensign Pulver in the national company of "Mr. Roberts."

Airman, Wife Are Slated To Appear on TV Show

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Danny Schmidts are visiting in Southern California and are to appear on a TV show Monday night.

Schmidt, prisoner of the Chinese Reds for 32 months, came home to find his wife Una married to another man, but he won her back. The former airman denied reports that he and his wife would "tell all" on the TV program saying: "We're merely going to put in an appearance."

Employment Office Here To Be Closed for Funeral

The Marion state employment office will be closed from 12 noon to 2 p.m. Tuesday during funeral services for Ernest Cornell, administrator of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, who died in Columbus Friday.

All employment offices throughout the state will be closed during that time in respect for Cornell, Fred B. Scherff, manager of the local office, reported this morning.

Cleveland

final two games of the Washington series today and Sunday, can take its chances with second line pitchers in the Monday doubleheader at Baltimore.

Ford Is Winner

Ford, who had a one-hitter against Cleveland two years ago, was deprived of a shutout by a walk and an error by Irv Noren, who ironically is defensive man in the Yanks' platoon system. Whitey walked Mickey Vernon to open the seventh, and after one man was retired, Carlos Paula lined a clean single to left, which Noren muffed. Vernon scored on the boot and Paula chugged to third, scoring on an infield out moments later.

Billy Martin, with two hits in his first game on furlough from the Army, singled to open the Yank sixth. Yogi Berra followed with a single and then Mantle slammed his 36th home run into the right field seats off Bob Porterfield.

The Boston Red Sox beat Baltimore 8-3, coupling four of their eight hits and an error to break a 3-3 tie with three runs in the eighth. Frank Sullivan missed his 17th, leaving the victory to reliefer Leo Kiely. Billy Goodman drove home three Boston runs and Ted Williams parked his 26th homer.

Detroit had homers by Al Kaline and Harv Kuenn, but lost 7-6 at Kansas City. A Tiger rally sputtered out against reliefer Tom Gorman in the eight.

In the National, Brooklyn beat Pittsburgh 2-0, with Duke Snider's 41st homer, with one on in the sixth, settling a duel between Karl Spooner and Dick Hall. Spooner won his seventh with a four-hitter. The Dodger lefty and ex-outfielder Hall gave just two hits apiece over the first five innings.

New Record

Ernie Banks hammered his 40th homer, his first in 18 games, for a major league record for shortstops as the Chicago Cubs belted St. Louis 12-2.

Robin Roberts won his 22nd, although not around for the finish, as Philadelphia beat New York 5-3. Roy Smalley's pinch double drove home two, breaking a 3-3 tie in the eighth.

Moslem Mosque, Culture Center Nearing Completion in Capital

WASHINGTON (UP) — Visitors to the nation's capital will see the white limestone minaret of an authentic Moslem mosque rising 160 feet into the air.

As the result of the efforts of 11 Moslem nations, the only combined Islamic cultural center and mosque in the Western Hemisphere is rapidly nearing completion on fashionable Massachusetts Avenue in northwest Washington. Most of the other dozen or so mosques in the United States are in non-Arabic buildings.

Each of the 11 countries: Afghanistan, Egypt, Indonesia, Iran, Jordan, Libya, Pakistan, Saudi Arabia, Syria, Turkey and Yemen, contributed something to the building of the mosque.

Carpets from Iran, tile from Afghanistan and books of the Koran from Saudi Arabia contributed to the beauty and completeness of the striking building. A Washington builder, who was born a Palestinian Arab but now is an American citizen, donated his services.

Long-Planned

The combined mosque and Islamic center fulfills the decade-old dream of the Moslem countries having missions in Washington. The Ford, Rockefeller and other foundations have helped the building and many individuals have contributed sums of money.

The building, an authentic piece of Moslem architecture, was planned by Egyptian architects. They built a stainless steel crescent and mounted it on the minaret. It now looms over a verse from the Koran which is written in classic Arabic over the entrance.

The mosque is the important part of the building. It is built at an angle to the street to face the Holy Kaaba in Mecca—towards which all Moslems pray.

Called To Prayers

Worshippers are called to prayer five times daily by a meuzzin who climbs to a balcony of the mosque. Friday is the most important day of devotion.

The Islamic center houses a library, school, and museum for the study of art and culture of the Moslem world. Some lectures have already been given by representatives of the Egyptian government and classes in elementary Arabic are now in full swing.

A south wing of the center will contain the administrative offices while beneath the mosque an auditorium that will seat 300 is planned. The mosque itself will accommodate 500 persons.

Officials believe the new building overlooking Rock Creek Park is destined to become a major tourist attraction in this city of monuments. Visitors are welcome, but must remove their shoes before entering. They will be given paper shoes to slip on.

Ohioan's Body Found in River, Death Probed

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — Licking County Sheriff William McElroy last night said he believed Charles H. Robinson, 52, was not beaten to death as previously thought. Robinson's body was found yesterday under a county bridge near Buckeye Lake.

The sheriff told a newsman, "my personal opinion is that the man was not beaten to death. The death may not have been entirely due to natural causes. It could have been an accident. Preliminary reports do not give any indication of foul play."

County Coroner M. H. Koehler said a post-mortem was held yesterday at Newark General Hospital. But he said results would not be available until next week.

Robinson, a paper mill supervisor from Baltimore, Ohio, disappeared from his home Thursday night, a day after he and his wife returned from a vacation in the east.

Robinson's body was found under the south fork of the Licking River Bridge on Ohio 157 in Licking County near the Fairfield County line. His wife, Anabelle, noticed his car parked near the culvert and flagged down a motorist who found the body, the state patrol said.

Reunions

REPPERT-RINEHART-ULLOM

The Reppert-Rinehart and Ullom families reunion was held Sunday at the Fairgrounds in Upper Sandusky.

People from Findlay, Fostoria, Toledo, Steubenville, Rudolph, Bucyrus, Bay Village, Lakewood, Mount Gilead, Upper Sandusky, Prospect and Marion attended the reunion.

Officers elected were Arthur Rinehart of Bay Village, president; Robert Alspaugh of Toledo vice president; and Mrs J Fred Clagett of Marion, secretary-treasurer.

Peanut Butter Preferred By Wild Michigan Bears

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan bears, though still staunch honey-lovers, like peanut butter most of all.

The Conservation Department says it has found peanut butter to be the most effective bait in trapping bears.

The bears are trapped as part of a long-range program to study their movements.

Posse Hunts Big Game In Northeastern Illinois

KEWANEE, Ill. (AP)—A big game hunt is on today in Henry County in northwestern Illinois.

The subject of the search by a posse of citizens is an animal resembling a panther. Farmer Bert Berry and others saw the big cat in one of Berry's fields six miles east of Kewanee yesterday.

Berry went to his house and grabbed a gun. He shot at the animal, but missed and it fled into the woods. The creature was first sighted about two weeks ago. Some who saw it thought it was a panther.

CIO Petitions Short of Names

Will Have 10 Days To Get More, Brown Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio CIO Council today was short a few hundred signatures in its petitions to put a jobless pay boost to a November vote.

In an unofficial count, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said the union was short 994 names with only 509 signatures on petitions remaining to be checked. The Council needs 77,934 valid signatures to place its proposal on the Nov. 8 ballot.

The Council proposes boosting jobless benefits to a maximum of $50 a week for 39 weeks. Present maximum is $33 for 26 weeks, following a three-dollar-a-week increase by the last Legislature.

Brown said the union will have 10 days from the date of official signature certification to obtain additional names. He said the official check probably could not be completed before Tuesday.

A union spokesman said he was confident of getting sufficient names.

30-Day Forecast Says September To Be Cool

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Weather Bureau said Friday its 30-day outlook for September calls for temperatures to average below seasonal normals in the South and also in the Ohio Valley and lower Great Lakes region.

Elsewhere above normal temperatures are predicted, with greatest departures in the Northern Plains and northern Rocky Mountain states, the bureau said.

Precipitation is expected to exceed normal in states along the Gulf and Atlantic coasts, but subnormal amounts are indicated for most of the remainder of the nation.

WACs, Missing 3 Days, Caught In Ohio Capital

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two teenage WACs were being held here for Army authorities today after their arrest by a Columbus policeman last night.

Police quoted the girls as saying they "had been treated mean" at the Army Chemical Center at Edgewood, Md., and that they left there Wednesday and came to Columbus by bus and train.

The Army had listed Pvt. Doris C. Ferguson, 18, of Columbus, and Pvt. Mabel Miller, 19, of Allentown, Pa., as AWOL, but had a 13-state alarm broadcast, fearing the girls might have met with foul play.

But the two WACs turned up in the heart of the city last night and were nabbed by Patrolman Ira C. Dodd. He said he became suspicious when he remembered seeing them the day before and noticed they had dyed their hair overnight.

He said they readily admitted their identity.

Judge 'Sentences' Ohio Man's Cow to Children's Home

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—A practical-minded judge yesterday "sentenced" a man's cow to the children's home where his 10 children are being cared for.

Juvenile Judge Harry G. Gram sentenced Herman Mershon of nearby South Charleston to four months in jail for no-support, then told him:

"Your children already are in the home and soon your cow will be too—to aid in their support."

The cow's "sentence" came after Mershon protested his own sentence on grounds there would be no one to care for "Bossy." Lester Boggs, superintendent of the home, suggested to the judge the home could use the extra milk.

Mrs. Malissa Mershon, the children's mother, is a part-time worker at the children's home.

Retiring Mail Carriers Honored by Co-Workers

About 80 employes of the Marion postoffice honored C. D. (Dutch) Fail and Livingston Lickason at a surprise picnic at the Fail home on the Richland Pike Wednesday evening.

Fail retired as a city carrier Thursday after 32 years service and Dickason will retire Oct. 1 after 32 years service. He is a parcel post carrier.

Brief talks were given by Postmaster Homer Cole and Elmer Bondley, Fred Romine, Charles Smithson and Claude Sautter, retired postal employes. Paul Lovell was master of ceremonies.

The guests of honor were presented gifts.

Fined on Tax Charge

Three local businessmen were each given suspended $25 and costs fines in Marion Municipal Court Friday on charges of violation of the Ohio sales tax law. Clurid E. Sharp of Sharp Plumbing and Heating Co., Floyd D. Mullins of 315 Leader St. and A. J. Buday, Marion home builder, were accused of not having prepaid sales tax stamps on hand when a state inspector visited their places of business the last of August. The state inspector was James D. Fate, who also swore out the affidavits against each of the three men.

Cleveland Sewer Blast Damage Suits Are Filed

CLEVELAND (AP)—Fifteen more damage suits, asking a total of more than $67,000, were filed in common pleas court yesterday, bringing to 70 the number of lawsuits growing out of the 1953 sewer explosion on W. 117th St.

Claims amounting to more than two million dollars have been made in the 70 actions. Defendants are the Glidden Co., Shell Oil Co., Sun Oil Co., White Sewing Machine Co., Cleveland Welding Co., Ferbert Sharndorfer Co., Union Carbide & Carbon Corp., and the cities of Lakewood and Cleveland.

The lawsuits charge the firms were responsible for explosive materials poured into the sewer.

Trio Found Guilty

WEST UNION, Ohio (AP)—James Branham, 19, of Peebles was found guilty yesterday of contributing to the delinquency of a 13-year-old California girl who was attacked last July. Two of his younger companions were found guilty of delinquency in juvenile court. Judge James H. Lang withheld sentence pending a grand jury report on two men in their 20's who are accused of rape in the same case. Three other Peebles teenagrs were acquitted of delinquency charges involving the girl, who was reported attacked, beaten and drugged.

News of the Churches

Union Vesper Services To Be Concluded Sunday

Final service in the Sunday evening union vesper series in Marion set for the summer months will be Sunday at 7 o'clock on the lawn of Central Christian Church. The speaker will be Rev. Floyd E. Kline of Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church and the worship leader will be Rev. W. Lincoln Stafford of Wesley Methodist Church. Sermon theme will be, "The Path of the Just."

These services sponsored by the Marion County Ministerial Association begin in June each year and are scheduled to close Labor Day Sunday. Ministers of the co-operating congregations are heard in turn as speaker and devotional leader from Sunday to Sunday. Offerings are used for Weekday Religious Education work in the public schools under direction of the Marion County Council of Churches.

Special music for the service will be an anthem by the Forest Lawn Choir, "God So Loved the World" by Stainer.

Jehovah's Witnesses

"Be Satisfied by Work" will be the subject of the public Bible discussion Sunday at 7 p.m. at the Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses. Bible study will be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. discussing the subject, "The Universalness of the Conflict." Ministry School and business meeting will be Thursday at 7:30 p.m. carrying out the theme, "Every Publisher Strive for Regularity."

Christian Science

Man's real spiritual status as a son of God, not subject to sin and disease, will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Man."

The Golden Text is from Romans (8:14): "As many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God."

St. Paul's Episcopal

Communion will be observed Sunday at the 9:45 a.m. service of St. Paul's Episcopal Church. Regular schedule of services will be resumed the following Sunday.

First Presbyterian

Theme of the sermon Sunday morning at First Presbyterian Church will be in keeping with Labor Day. The regular Midweek Fellowship of the church will be resumed Wednesday at 7:45 p.m. in the Youth Room. Rev. Irvin W. Emmons, the pastor, will conduct study the next several weeks on "The Life and Teachings of Christ." First rehearsal of the Adult Choir for the fall will be Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

First Church of God

Beginning Sunday, special services will be held nightly at First Church of God with Rev. E. J. Everhart of Sharon, Pa., preaching. The meetings will continue through Sept. 9, the pastor, Rev. S. J. Williams, announced. A feature of the services will be music, both vocal and instrumental with the latter including numbers on the electric Spanish guitar and piano.

Annual Sunday School picnic of the congregation will be Monday at Lincoln Park. The group will meet at the church at 9:45 a.m. for transportation to the park. Each class has planned its own games and contests.

First EUB

At Sunday School hour of First EUB Church Sunday morning announcements will be made concerning Youth Fellowship meetings and the date and time of orchestra rehearsal. For Bible Study service Wednesday night lessons will continue in the 14th chapter of First Corinthians. The choir will rehearse Wednesday night under direction of Mrs. George Barnhart in preparation for beginning the fall program the following Sunday. Thursday afternoon the Woman's Society will meet. Plans are under way for baptism of children Sept. 18.

Oak Knoll Baptist

Walter Osmun of Marion will be in charge of services at the Oak Knoll Baptist Chapel the next two weeks in absence of the pastor, W. A. Hough, who is on vacation. Prayer meeting hour has been changed to 7:30 Thursday night for the fall and winter season.

At Sunday School hour Sunday afternoon children entering public school for the first time will be given a tablet and pencil at a special service planned by Edward Murphy, Sunday School teacher and song leader.

Prospect St. Methodist

Last of the summer early morning worship services of Prospect Street Methodist Church will be held Sunday at 8:40 a.m. Regular church service hour is 10:30. Special music for the latter hour will be a duet by Mrs. Kenneth Connolly and Mrs. John Little. Official board meeting will be postponed until Sept. 13. Wesleyan Service Guild meeting will be Tuesday night and Sunshine Bible Class, Thursday.

St. Paul's Lutheran

Schedule of services for the fall and winter months will be resumed Sunday by St. Paul's English Lutheran Church. During the summer an early worship service was held in addition to the usual morning worship hour and the Sunday School time was a quarter hour earlier than set for the fall and winter program. School hour will be 9:30, effective Sunday, and church service, 10:45.

Trinity Baptist

The observance of the Lord's Supper will be a feature of the morning worship service at Trinity Baptist Church Sunday. Special music will be a vocal quartette composed of Mrs. Harold Smith, Mrs. R. A. Maxim, F. H. LeMaster and I. H. Taylor singing "Draw Me to Thee." There will be a reception of new members preceding the communion service.

A choir party in the form of a covered dish supper will be held at the parsonage on S. Vine St. Thursday at 6:30 p.m. for all members of the choir and their families. The first fall choir rehearsal following vacation will be held following the supper under the direction of Mrs. Albert Kurtz with Mrs. Cecil Davis, church organist, accompanying.

The Senior High Youth Fellowship will have a wiener roast and party on the church lawn Saturday night honoring the young people from Trinity who are going away to college this fall.

The women's circles will meet next week as follows: Tuesday, Ohn Bwint with hostess Mrs. Warren Lindstrom; Thursday, the Ann Hasseltine with Mrs. Harwood Taylor, the Inner with Mrs. Reuben Smith, the Judson with Mrs. T. O. McClure, the Ruth Mather with Mrs. J. W. Burtch, the Seagrave with Mrs. Donald Conroy, the Lydia with covered dish supper at the church, and the Victoria Christensen in the evening at the West Town Bank room. Saturday the Capen Ho girls will have an all-day planning meeting with Mrs. Floyd Van Meter as hostess.

To Conduct Series Here

Quinn Chapel AME

Communion Sunday will be observed at worship service of the Quinn Chapel AME Church Sunday at 11 a.m.

Wesley Methodist

Two young people of Wesley Methodist Church taking part in the worship service Sunday morning will be Miss Ruth Mason and Miss Armida Buckingham. The former will give a report on her experiences at the national Methodist youth convention last week at Purdue University at Lafayette, Ind. Miss Buckingham will sing.

First meeting of the fall for the Woman's Society will be Thursday with all women of the church invited to attend. Special guest will be Mrs. D. N. Kelly of Wapakoneta, widow of a former pastor of the church who organized the society 15 years ago. A dessert luncheon will be served. The Martha Mary Circle will meet Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Florence Saxton as hostess.

Tent Services Set By Church of Christ

Opening a series of public evangelistic services in a tent at 545 Bellefontaine Ave. Wednesday night, the Marion Church of Christ will have as guest speaker for the meetings and for Sunday Clinton R. Gill of Lexington, O. The special effort will continue nightly through Sept 16, Nathan L. Black, minister of the congregation, announced.

Minister of the Church of Christ at Lexington, Mr. Gill, a graduate of Lincoln Bible College at Lincoln, Ill., made his decision to enter the ministry following a conversion experience during battle action while he was serving with the U.S. Navy. He has gained considerable recognition as a preacher in the eastern section of the country.

Song services will be under direction of James Selders of Killbuck, O. He is minister of the Glenmont Church of Christ and devotes a large part of his ministry to song evangelism throughout the state.

Services Sunday preceding the beginning of the campaign will be held in the tent. Regular meeting place of the congregation is the YMCA chapel.

Guest Sunday will be observed as members bring neighbors and friends for the morning service. Bible School hour will be 9:30 a.m. with Melvin Keeran as teacher of the Adult Class. He will present the third in a series of lessons on "What Must I Do To Be Saved?" For worship hour at 10:30 there will be the observance of the Lord's Supper and message by the minister.

At 1 p.m. a cafeteria style picnic will be served at the shelter house in McKinley Park. An afternoon fellowship hour at 2:30 will feature a message by Mr. Gill on "Launch Out Into the Deep." Evening Gospel hour at 7:30 will be held in the tent. A chart sermon will be presented by Mr Black on "The Central Link in the Gospel Chain."

Salem E. and R.

Sermon theme Sunday morning at Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church will be in keeping with Labor Day observance. Meetings of church organizations next week will include Women's Guild session Tuesday night, Consistory Wednesday night and Mary-Martha Class Thursday night. The choir will resume regular rehearsals Saturday night under direction of Miss Edema Koenig.

Emmanuel Baptist

With the first Sunday in September, Emmanuel Baptist Church begins the fall and winter schedule of time. Thus the service Sunday night will begin at 7:30; Youth Fellowship preceding at 6:45, and prayer meeting at 7:30 p.m. Wednesdays.

The annual boat ride event for the congregation will be held Tuesday night at Indian Lake. On board a Singspiration Fellowship is conducted. The church bus and cars will leave the church at 6 p.m. to travel in caravan to the lake. This will be the eleventh annual boat ride.

The church is planning its 12th annual Missionary Bible Conference which will be held Nov. 9 to 13. Missionaries from all parts of the world will be present and will take part in the services.

Emanuel Lutheran

A sermon in keeping with Labor Day will be delivered by Rev. M. E. Hollensen at Emanuel Lutheran Church Sunday morning. The service will include the appearance of the Senior Choir after a vacation of several weeks. The special anthem will be, "Blessed Is He Who Cometh" Homer Huffman directs this group and Mrs. William Ackerman is accompanist.

The teachers of the Sunday School will meet for study Thursday night.

All classes in religious education will be resumed Saturday morning, Sept. 10, with sessions being held on the third floor of the educational building. The teaching personnel will include Mrs. Carl Sims, Mrs. Kenneth Raymond, Miss Marjorie Meister, Mrs. Ralph Roby and Rev. Hollensen. There will be classes for all boys and girls of grade-school age.

The Philathea Circle will meet in the educational building at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

The Junior Mission Band will hold its first meeting of the new season next Saturday at 2 p.m.

Forest Lawn

Sunday morning message at Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church will be in keeping with Labor Day Sunday and will stress the blessedness of work. Anthems by two groups will be, "The King of Love My Shepherd Is," Nolte, Junior Choir; and "How Pleasant Is Thy Dwelling-Place," Adams, Senior Choir. Young people's group will attend the evening vesper service at Central Christian Church at 7 p.m. when the Forest Lawn pastor will be the speaker. Tuesday night Circle 1 will be entertained by Mrs. C. R. Frye; Mrs. Robert Griffith will entertain Circle 2 Thursday night; Circle 3 hostess Thursday will be Mrs. William Burley and a sack lunch will be served at 1 p.m.

Oakland EUB

Leader for Senior Youth Fellowship of Oakland EUB Church Sunday night will be Bobby Klingel. Mrs. Martha Vermillion will be in charge of Intermediate Fellowship and she will be leader for midweek prayer service Wednesday night.

Church of the Brethren

Slide pictures on the life of Christ, paintings by Jacques Barosin, will be featured at the evening service in First Church of the Brethren Sunday. Following the morning services the Co-Workers Class will leave for a picnic outing. Members of the church building committee are to be present Tuesday night to meet with the architect for counseling. Men of the congregation will continue work on the church basement each night.

Calvary EUB

Morning service soloist Sunday at Calvary EUB Church will be Mrs. Vernon Goyer. Tuesday night the Mary Martha Class will meet. For midweek prayer service Wednesday night the pastor will begin a series of studies on evangelism. The Senior Choir will meet for rehearsal following prayer meeting.

Epworth Methodist

Returned from vacation, Rev. Walter C. Eyster will fill his pulpit at Epworth Methodist Church Sunday morning. Soloist will be George W. Lane, who will sing, "Seek Ye the Truth," by Ellis. Teacher of the adult classes at the Church School hour will be Robert F. Williams.

For the church's radio broadcast over Station WMRN at 9 a.m., a special interview with Rev. Earl R. Brown of New York City, director of national missions of the denomination, will be presented.

Organizations of the church meeting next week include the King Class for a potluck supper Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. at the church; commissions on education, finance and meetings, 7:30 p.m. Tuesday followed by official board at 8:30; Lampblighters, Wednesday 1 p.m.; and Woman's Society, 15th anniversary program, "Fitly Framed Together—Growing," with devotions by the Mary-Martha Circle, Margery Mayer Circle members as hostesses and Lucy Webb Hayes Circle serving.

Central Christian

Young people of Central Christian Church who attended camp and conference sessions during the summer will give reports at morning worship service Sunday. A meeting of the official board to consider matters of importance to the church will be held Tuesday night. There will be a general meeting of the Christian Women's Fellowship for all women of the church Thursday night.

Church Briefs

Because of the Labor Day holiday Monday, the First Evangelical and Reformed Church consistory, regularly scheduled for the first Monday night of the month, will meet Tuesday night. Senior Choir rehearsal will be Thursday night.

Dayton, O., and its suburbs have produced 17,000,000 refrigerating units, including air conditioners, since 1921.

Why Fear?

A Sermonette

By REV. EDWARD W. SMILLIE
Pastor of the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church

Fear is one of man's great enemies. A certain amount of fear is innate within all of us and should be encouraged. However some of the things we fear are not always in line with clear thinking. The same woman who rushes headlong into a fire to save her child will climb a chair in fear of a little mouse. In the one, a real danger but not one bit of qualm as to what to do; in the other, complete intimidation and alarm.

The Old Testament prophet Habakkuk had the very problems facing him as we do today. His world was fast crumbling and he could see no justice or equity in sight. Through the dark clouds he saw another Hand, One with Infinite power and wisdom. When he saw that God was still Master of the earth then fear left him and he said, "The Lord is in His holy temple, let all the earth keep silence before Him. Although the fig tree shall not blossom, neither shall fruit be in the vines, and the fields shall yield no meat, and there shall be no herd in the stalls; yet I will rejoice in the Lord, I will joy in the God of my salvation. The Lord is my strength."

WHAT FURTHER words of encouragement do we need when He who brought this world into existence and continues to sustain it by the Word of His mouth says to us personally, "Fear thou not; for I am with thee; be not dismayed; for I am thy God; I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness?"

The one thing that impressed and converted the many skeptics immediately following the death and resurrection of Jesus was the serenity of Christians in peril and persecution. In times of adversity there was no fear for they not only had a purpose in life but also in death. Through the salvation which is in Christ the fear of death had been expelled. In its place was a placid assurance of being with their Lord forever.

Having been brought into God's family by faith in the shed blood of Christ and having had our sins forgiven, we then become objects of God the Father's special care. "If God so clothes the grass of the field," says Jesus, "which today is, and tomorrow is cast into the oven, shall He not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith? Therefore take no thought saying, 'What shall we eat?', or, 'What shall we drink?', or, 'Wherewithal shall we be clothed?', for your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things. But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and His righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you." The Christian has no cause for fear because, "All things work together for good to them that love God, to those who are called according to His purpose."

TRULY WITHOUT pride in ourselves but recognizing what Jesus Christ has made possible for every one of us through His death, we may say, "God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. Therefore will not we fear though the earth be removed, and though the mountains be carried into the midst of the sea; though the waters thereof roar and be troubled, though the mountains shake with the swelling thereof. God is in the midst; we shall not be moved. The Lord of hosts is with us; the God of Jacob is our refuge."

ADVANCE OF NEED
It would be different if we could avoid this inevitable decision. Then postponing the choice of a family burial estate would be understandable. But since we can't, it's more satisfactory in every way to put the problem behind us before the need arises.

There Is A Difference In Funeral Services . . .
The more observing know that the services of all funeral directors are not the same.
People are paying more attention to the services they receive because they realize that much of the cost and most of their satisfaction — or disappointments — is due to the service. They also prefer a homelike atmosphere in a funeral Home.
Those who prefer the service and appointments provided by this organization will find cost no greater here.

Video Cameras Help To Locate Fires in Forest

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UP) — The television camera may replace the old-fashioned forest fire lookout.

The California Division of Forestry has just completed a four-day test high in the Sierra Nevada Mountains of El Dorado County. It found that the TV camera can spot a forest fire just as well as a human being, and in some cases better.

The division said the test was too short to be conclusive, but a TV camera mounted on a 360-degree turntable atop a lookout station easily spotted smoke at 10 miles with an 8-inch lens. With a 20-inch lens the camera saw smoke up to 16 miles. The trained observer with binoculars has a maximum efficiency viewing of 15 miles.

The study revealed that any robot camera would have to have several lenses. One would have low magnification and wide field of vision and higher-powered lenses to scrutinize a particular area.

The study indicated that cameras with lens filters may have an edge over human beings under hazy conditions.

Ironically, the fault that became apparent quickly was the human factor again. The division would like to know how many TV screens one observer can watch at one time? And how quickly will an observer tire from watching the screens continually?

Watching a picture of the forest primeval for 24 hours is no variety show, an official pointed out.

NEEDLE KID

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (UP) — After receiving his anti-polio inoculation, a second-grade pupil at the Slater Road School got into another line and took a second shot. He said he wanted to show his schoolmates he wasn't afraid of the needle.

A DRY ANSWER

LA SALLE, Ill. (UP) — A housewife telephoned Mayor B. D. Bruno during a heavy rain to ask, "What's the best way to keep water from coming into my house?" "Don't pay your water bill," Bruno replied.

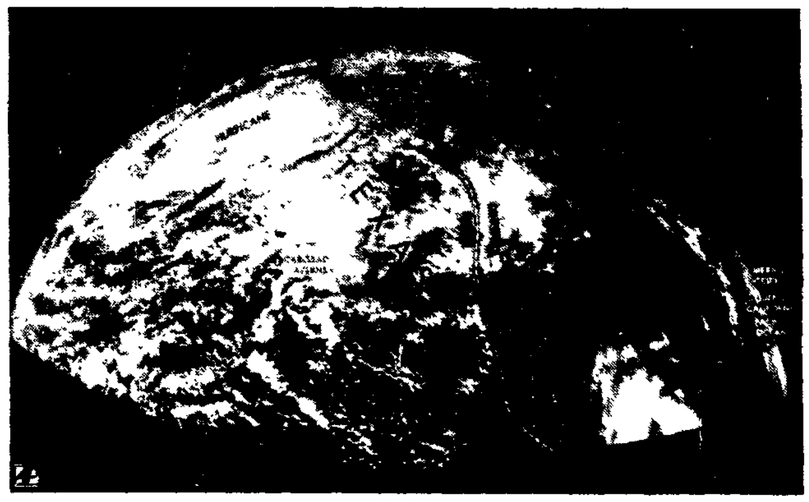
Mrs. Marjorie Queen, 38, wife of William Queen of Springfield and sister of Mrs. Bruce Snider of 208 E. Washington Ave., died Thursday afternoon in Springfield City Hospital. In ill health a year, she was bedfast one week.

A native of Springfield, she was born Sept. 11, 1916. Her husband is associated with the Borden Dairy Co. There is a daughter, Judy, 5.

Funeral services will be conducted Monday at 2 p.m. in the Donnelsville Lutheran Church. Burial will be in Glen Haven Memorial Park in Springfield. The body is at the Woods Funeral Home in Springfield.



NAVY PHOTOGRAPHS IMMENSE AREA OF EARTH. The Navy, releasing this composite diagrammed photograph, said it believes the photo shows the biggest area of the Earth—about one and a quarter million square miles—ever photographed at one time. It is a composite of 310 prints from 16 millimeter motion picture film exposed about 100 miles above the earth, via rocket. The Navy said a hurricane was centered near Del Rio, Texas, and had a diameter of about 1,000 miles. The Navy believes it is the first one ever shown completely in one photograph.

Walter G. Wheeler, 65, Dies at Tucson, Ariz.

Walter G. Wheeler, 65, formerly of Marion, died Thursday in a hospital at Tucson, Ariz., where he had lived since December, 1953.

Born April 26, 1890, in Chicago, Ill., he was the son of Augustus Wheeler and Augusta Eddington Wheeler. In Chicago, in 1909, he married Ethel Court who died Dec. 21, 1932. Sept. 5, 1936, in Marion, he married Marie Hammer. At one time he was an employe of the old Wells Fargo Express Co. and later he was an interior decorator and insurance agent. He was a member of St. Paul's English Lutheran Church in Marion and of the K. of P. Lodge here.

Surviving are his widow and three children, Mrs. Bernard Harris of 839 Oak Grove Ave. in Marion, Mrs. Donald Ruhl of Pasadena, Calif., and Robert W. Wheeler of Oakland, Calif.; and seven grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. in the Schaffner - Denzer Funeral Home on E. Center St. Rev. M. L. Dolbeer will officiate. Burial will be in Marion Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after Monday noon.

Carpenters End Strike

PIQUA, Ohio (AP)—Carpenters at Inland Homes Corp. were back at work today after being on strike from Aug. 18 until yesterday. Neither union nor management would comment on wage scales which were at issue. The firm's two plants here had been struck by about 400 men of Local 2945, AFL Carpenters Union.

Grains may soon be stored in big rubber drums. Researchers are looking into that possibility.

Funeral Services

Mrs. Carrie Shumaker—Monday 1:30 p.m., Wise Funeral Home, Bucyrus. Rev. M. P. Paetznick, burial Oakwood Cemetery, Bucyrus. Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday afternoon and night.

Allan A. Baker — Monday at 2 p.m. at the Carey Methodist Church, Rev. Richard Hughes officiating. Burial in Spring Grove Cemetery. Friends may call at the Goff Funeral Home, Carey. The casket will not be opened.

Amino Acid Discovered To Be Aid to Appetite

NEW YORK (UP) — Scientists believe they have broken down the cycle responsible for children's poor appetite by adding an essential amino acid to the diet.

From a series of controlled clinical studies, doctors found that children who drink milk or formulas containing the amino acid, lysine, gain weight and their appetites increase, sometimes in a day or two.

Building body tissue requires more food and calls for it. That is known as appetite. If the body is not utilizing its food properly the tissues do not send appetite signals to the brain. The lysine, marketed under the trade name "lactofort," helps the body to utilize food and stimulates the appetite, the clinical tests showed.

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Make Your Thoughts Work for You

One of the greatest minds mankind has ever known was that of the uniquely gifted Thomas Alva Edison. Seventy-six years ago, he invented the electric light and, through the years, over eleven hundred other inventions, including the motion picture, have his crowded brain.

DR. PEALE

Edison is supposed to have made a curious remark which always fascinated me. He said, "The chief function of the body is to carry the brain around."

What did he mean by that? Obviously he meant that you need your body, primarily, because you need your mind. It is a graphic andd unusual way of saying that you are what you think, that your life is determined by what goes on in your brain. The brain is the center of thought, memory, feeling, emotion, dreams, prayer, faith; in short, it is the creative and directing part of the entire person. The body may become old, feeble, suffer disability; but so long as the brain is clear and in working order, so long do you really live.

SCIENTISTS continually tell us that we do not half appreciate the intricate wonder and power of the human brain. One good way to understand its power is to visualize a telephone switchboard system the size of that needed for the whole city of New York. Then multiply it by one thousand and you have some idea of what goes on in your brain.

Through the brain's intricate system you can, in a moment, go back years and perhaps recall a fragment of a song, or the odor of a flower, or the light in someone's eyes. You can re-live great and exalted experiences. You can be thrilled by the recollection of a sunrise; you can see a beloved face long gone. And all this goes on in three pounds of tissue set in your skull. This is the remarkable instrument God has endowed you with.

BUT THE AVERAGE persons, so say the scientists, never use more than a part of his potential brain power. Over the period of a man's life he uses every muscle in his body at one time or another. But most men live and die having left unused two-thirds of their brain power. However, over the generations, the human brain is continually developing. Perhaps hundreds of thousands of years from now, people will be more capable because they have developed better brains.

But each of us, right now, is capable of developing his mental power far beyond what it may be at present. We can use our brains to envisage great things; we can think rugged, man-sized thoughts. Our brains were meant to consider the heavens, the stars, the oceans, the mountains, and God himself; meant to have the highest aspirations. When we use them to think small, petty, mean thoughts, we are limiting our possibilities.

HENRY FORD, working with his own hands in a shed, was forever thinking and was able to see the production lines his genius would create. The Wright brothers, tinkering in their shop, mentally visualized the possibility of flight. Albert Einstein, working with paper and pencil, thought out a source of power and energy that would dwarf anything known before. Because these men put their thoughts to work, we have emerged into the age of the automobile, the airplane and, most recently, atomic power.

There have been others, before and since, who have dreamed great dreams — but whose dreams never came true. What is the difference? What distinguishes dreaming from creative thinking?

The difference is simply putting your thoughts to work to find a solution. Edison himself pointed out that real results come first from a flash of inspiration, but must be coupled with nine times as much perspiration. So, if you want to put your thoughts to work for creative results — put yourself to work with them.

Clevelander Is Accused In Embezzlement Case

CLEVELAND (AP)—A public relations man, Arman L. Merriam, was charged yesterday with the embezzlement of $1,500 from the Cleveland chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, a national journalism fraternity.

Merriam, 62, former secretary and treasurer of the chapter, was scheduled for a preliminary hearing today in municipal court. He was arrested on complaint of fraternity officers.

Chief Police Prosecutor Bernard J. Conway said the $1,500 amount was Merriam's own estimate of the money he admitted converting to his own use.

Ohio's Letter Carriers Open Cleveland Parley

CLEVELAND (AP)—Some 500 delegates gathered today to attend the opening of the Ohio State Assn. of Letter Carrier's convention.

Officials of the association said they would urge a merger of 10 unions of postal employes into one large organization within the forthcoming combined AFL and CIO.

U. S. Senator George H. Bender and William C. Doherty, national president of the AFL National Assn., of Letter Carriers will address sessions of the three-day convention.

PLAN HALF DAY SESSION

The Caledonia School, which opens Tuesday morning, will dismiss at 11:30 a.m. The first full day of classes will be Wednesday, Sept 7

Boy Dies of Injuries

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Jerry Bentz, 5, died of injuries received when he was hit by a car near his Columbus home last night. The driver of the car was not held.

Sears Charges Employes With Grand Larceny

CINCINNATI (AP)—Three Sears, Roebuck & Co. department heads are accused of furnishing their homes with articles stolen from the company in the last nine months.

Held today on grand larceny charges are Randolph Pickett, 41, household wares manager; Robert W. Ford, 39, appliances division manager, and Thomas Williams, 32, receiving manager.

Lt. Ernest Taylor said the three officials admitted to a "reciprocal agreement" for the thefts. When one wanted an item from another's department, the department head would "look the other way," Taylor said.

The loot was valued at $2,500 and may reach $5,000 police said. It included living room chairs, television sets, phonograph, outboard motor, hi-fidelity recording machine, a movie camera and workshop machinery.

The trio was arrested yesterday.

Man Dies, Wife, Child Injured in Auto Crash

CANAL WINCHESTER, Ohio (AP)—William M Miller, 39, of Rt. 2 Millfield, (Athens County) was killed early today in a two car collision on U. S. 33, just north of the Franklin-Fairfield County line.

The state highway patrol said Miller's wife, Iris, 34, sufferred a possible fractured skull and was taken to Grant Hospital in Columbus. The Millers' 5-year-old daughter, Christine, also injured, is in Columbus' Mercy Hospital with a fractured arm.

The patrol said four other children in the family car were not hurt. Hugh A. Chilcote, 23, of Lancaster, driver of the other vehicle, was not injured, the patrol reported.

London Man Dies, Three Others Injured in Crash

LONDON, Ohio (AP)—Robert Williams, 28, of (16 W. Center St.) London, died of a fractured skull here early today when the car he was driving skidded into a pole on High St.

The state highway patrol said Brownie White, 23, a passenger in the car and a London resident, was taken to Mount Carmel Hospital in Columbus in critical condition. Two other occupants in the vehicle also were injured, but not seriously, the patrol said.

Park Services To Begin Final Week Sunday

Final week of the tent services at Garfield Park sponsored by the Maranatha Bible Church will begin Sunday. Rev. Charles Gray of Dennison, O., is the evangelist and Mrs. Gray is a special musician for the meetings. Returning Tuesday for the final week as music director will be Rev. Kenneth Bess of Savannah, O. He was here for the first services then Fred Sammons of Moody Bible Institute at Chicago, Ill., took his place. For Labor Day an all-day program is planned.

There will be an afternoon tent service Sunday as well as an evening service. The Sunday morning service will be held in the Maranatha Church with the guest evangelist preaching.

Sermon topic for the service at 2:45 p.m will be, "The Greatest Position on Earth" and at 7:30, "Will Jesus Christ Come Back?"

A group from the church will conduct a service at the Marion Training School Sunday at 8 a.m. For the congregation's Bible Fellowship radio broadcasts Sunday morning the subject at 9:15 over Station WRFD, Worthington, will be, "Salvation and Rewards" by the Maranatha pastor, Rev. Earl L. Holliday. There will be music by a group from the congregation and by guests, Mrs. Leona Gray who will play the vibra-harp and Fred Sammons, trombonist. The 9:30 broadcast over Station WTVN, Columbus, will feature the evangelist, Rev. Gray, and the same musicians.

Starting with a service at 10:30 a.m., the Labor Day observance will include a basket dinner at noon, a service at 1:15 p.m., a two-hour period at the pool at Camp Owens from 3 to 5, lunch at 6 and final service and film at 7:30. The picture will be, "God of the Atom."

Interest in the services has warranted continuation through next week, Rev. Holliday said. This is the fifth year of such meetings held by the congregation at the park. Final children's meeting was held Friday afternoon and total attendance was reported as 94 boys and girls. Tonight a moving picture, "Hidden Treasures," will be a feature of a youth rally which groups from out of the city are expected to attend.

Kindergarten Class Opens Wednesday

First day of school for five-year-old children enrolled in the Epworth Methodist Kindergarten will be Wednesday. Four-year-olds will have their first session Thursday morning.

The older group will meet Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings and the younger pupils Tuesday and Thursday mornings each week with Mrs. G. E. Rank, Mrs. Ervin Porter and Mrs. Virgil Stotts as teachers.

Kindergarten classes at the church are sponsored by the official board for children of the community and are held in the church kindergarten room. Anyone wishing to enroll young children in the school may telephone the office of church director of Christian education, at 2-2706.

Locked in Car, Hobo Cured of Train Hopping

ATLANTA (AP) — A 57-year-old North Carolina man who spent three days without food or water in a locked railroad boxcar says he won't try hoboing again.

James Pritchett said he climbed into an empty car at Gastonia, N. C., hoping to reach a veterans hospital in Georgia.

Railroad employes locked the door and Prichett was unable to attract attention until the car reached Atlanta.

Pritchett was given food and water and then brought before Municipal Judge James Webb Friday. Railroad officials said they thought he had been punished enough and the judge gave him a 60-day suspended sentence.

"I've ridden freight trains all my life," Pritchett told the court, "but I'm through now. I'll ride the coaches and be glad to pay."

NEW UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT. Dr. David Dodds Henry (seated), 49, becomes 12th president of the University of Illinois of Champaign, Ill. He succeeds Dr. Lloyd Morey (standing), who has been president the past two years and is retiring. Dr. Henry formerly was vice chancellor of New York University.

Ohio State Alumni Group Plans for Annual Session

Plans under way for the annual meeting of the Marion County chapter of the Ohio State University Alumni Association Sept. 12 will include dinner at 6:30 p.m. at the Marion Country Club and appearance of university alumni officials.

Guest of honor will be John David Barnhart of Edison who has been chosen by the local chapter to receive a scholarship from the university. The privilege of recommending a young person for a scholarship benefit was earned by the chapter when it exceeded its quota for the Ohio State Development Fund.

Jack Fullen, executive secretary of the university's alumni association and James Hogan, alumni field secretary, will be present as well as Kenyon Candell, director of the development fund project. They will present a film on highlights of the 1954 football season. Miss Madge Cooper is president of the Marion County chapter of the alumni association. The meeting will be open to alumni from the area as well as from the county, it was announced.

Child Fatally Hurt

LONDON, Ohio (AP)—Four-year-old Toni Lynn Lenels, of Diamond in Portage County, was fatally injured yesterday when the car in which she was riding upset on U. S. 42, three miles south of nearby Plain City. The car was driven by the girl's mother, Mrs. Ida Lenels.

School at Grand Prairie Set To Resume Tuesday

Grand Prairie School will open with a half-day session Tuesday morning, school officials announced today. First graders at the school will receive another week or so of vacation before starting classes because of a building program now underway at the school.

A teachers' meeting will be held Monday at 2 p.m. at the school. First classes Tuesday are at 8:40 a.m. Buses will make the same routes as they did last year.

School officials said the cafeteria will not be opened until about Oct. 3, because of the building program.

All teaching vacancies have been filled with the addition of three new teachers this summer.

Full day classes will begin Wednesday.

Held for Child Theft

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—James E. Mc Leehan, 28, was charged with child stealing yesterday and was bound over for grand jury action under $10,000 bond. The charge was in connection with the abduction last Friday night of a 10-year-old boy, who escaped.

Case Fails To Hold Up

OMAHA (AP)—The State charged Raymond H. Sadler with killing a squirrel out of season on the evidence of Johnny Ohler, 11.

The case came to trial Friday and Johnny related the incident in an excited rush of words. Then Sadler said in defense that he shot the squirrel because the rodent bit his dog.

Asked if he had seen the squirrel bite the dog, Johnny gave out with an emphatic "Yeah!"

The charge was dismissed.

Clevelander Slays Wife, Phones Police

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police were summoned to a west side home today by a telephone voice that said:

"I killed my wife."

Detectives, rushing to the address, found in the living room the body of Mrs. Alma Rathbun, a slender brunette of about 33, who had been shot in the neck with a blast from a 12-gauge shotgun.

Her husband, Max Rathbun, a 31-year-old carpenter, stood by, without apparent emotion. He was brought to central police station for questioning.

Police Sgt. Michael Sirkot said Rathbun admitted shooting his wife after he "caught her cheating."

Police said charges would be filed after facts were presented to the police prosecutor.

Phone Operators Quit

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—For the second time in less than a month, 22 long distance telephone operators walked off their jobs yesterday, protesting what they called "intolerable working conditions." The operators, members of the Communications Workers Union, walked out Aug. 9, for one day and returned when they were promised better working conditions, an operator said. Roy W. Ammel, president of the Elyria Telephone Co., said the walkout was without notice and the company would carry on without the strikers.

'Most anything worth doing, isn't easy.

A man's job, for example, isn't easy. Often it's complicated and dangerous with problems a-plenty.

It isn't easy, either, to be a homemaker. A dozen skills and more are needed, not to mention endless hours of monotonous tasks.

Yet, man or woman, usually you're urged on by a dogged determination to "do it—or else!"

But when it comes to living a life that's commendable and above reproach, does your determination still prod you on? Do you dare stand for right against all odds?

Then your place is in the Church, where others feel exactly as you do. Join them now in worship and work, and your determination will be strengthened, your faith renewed.

HOLY BIBLE

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

No-Gambling Hotel

Reno Resort Will Cater To Hunters and Anglers

RENO (INS) — A group of Nevada and California financiers, millionaires in their own right, are staking a $2,000,000 gamble on the promise that not everybody who comes to Reno likes to gamble.

They have broken ground in Reno for a 200-room luxury hotel along the banks of the bubbling Truckee River that will be unique among Nevada resort hotels — it will have no gambling, no floor show or night club.

The new Holiday Hotel will, instead, cater to two lucrative but often neglected classes of Reno visitors — the businessmen and the sportsman.

"THERE ARE," says Norman Biltz, "a million pheasant shooters to one crap shooter."

Biltz is a man who speaks with authority — his vocation and avocation for nearly three decades has been luring contented millionaires to Nevada to live. In the process he has become one himself, eight or ten times over.

His diverse activities have included real estate, the contracting business, oil, borax and uranium, ranching and the establishment of new industries. All of that has won him the title of "Duke of Nevada."

His present affluence and influence (he is possibly the most powerful man in the state) are in startling contrast to his arrival in the west, broke, on his own and 18 years old.

—:—

ASSOCIATED WITH him in the building of the Holiday Hotel are his partner in real estate holdings, Engineer, banker and lobbyist Johnny Mueller; shipping and lumber magnates R. Stanley Dollar, Senior and Junior; and Reno automobile dealer Marsh Johnson, a partner with Biltz in the Nevada Air Products Co., a subcontractor for Douglas Aircraft.

They have one thing in common other than the desire and ability to make money — all are ardent sportsmen, as is the architect, Frank Green of Reno.

The sportsman will be king at the Holiday. He will be shown where to fish — even how, if necessary. His catch will either be cleaned and served to him, or frozen and packaged with the Holiday label ready to be carried home. The same will be true of game.

"We are planning to develop a lake or part of the Truckee River for the use of hotel guests," Biltz said.

—:—

THE STATE Fish and Game Department points out that 1,667,997 game fish of catching size were planted in 1954 in Washoe County, Lake Tahoe and Pyramid Lake and a conservative estimate of the mule deer in Nevada is placed at 100,000.

"This is the one state in the union," Biltz said, "that as far as big game is concerned is shorter of hunters than of game."

The hotel's 200 rooms will each have a lanai-type balcony and it's theoretically possible for persons in the rooms lining the Truckee to fish off their own front porch — the Truckee is a famed trout stream even in the section that bisects the heart of Reno.

Holiday is scheduled to open in May, 1956, with the exterior work to be completed by this December.

"We're not forgetting the winter sports enthusiasts," Biltz said. "Some of the best skiing in the world is near here—the first ski race in history was run not 30 miles away in the last century — and the Winter Olympics will be at nearby Squaw Valley.

"We don't want Reno to become known as a one sport area — gambling. Gambling actually keeps out several classes of substantial and interesting citizens and we are really in the middle of what is a sportsman's paradise."

Man Reports Burglary Of Hotel Room in Marion

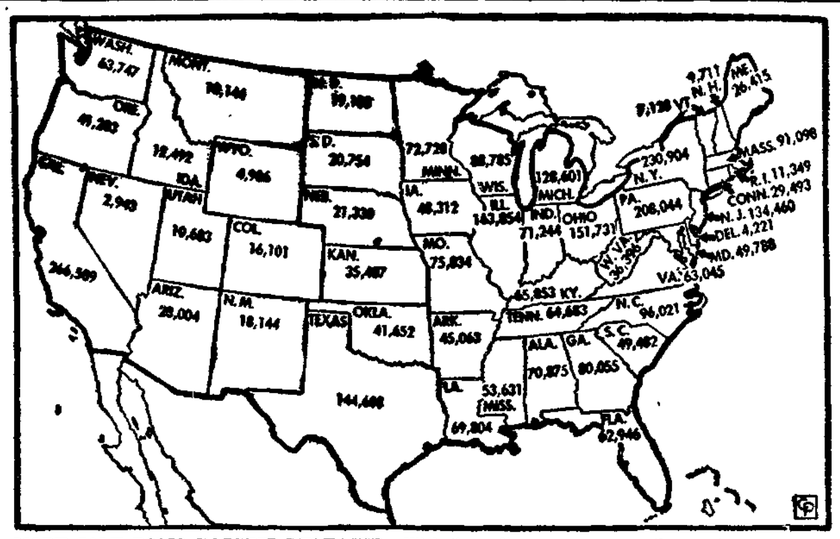
Burglary of his room at the Werley Hotel and theft of $60 was reported to Marion police Friday night by Jesse Riddle. He told police that he had hidden the money in a dresser drawer in the room and that someone had entered the room, ransacked it and found the money.

Police said that entrance was gained through an unlocked door at the top of an outside stairway.

An unidentified woman told police that she saw two young boys coming down the stairs about 10 p.m. but thought nothing of it at the time. Riddle reported the burglary at 10:21 p.m.

Truck Fall Fatal

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Gilbert Maschino, 35, and the roll-away bed he was holding fell off a moving pickup truck last night. Maschino was injured fatally. It was the first traffic death in Hamilton in 1955.



MORE SALK POLIO VACCINE RELEASED. With the polio season apparently nearing its peak, the Public Health service has released an additional 3,348,000 shots of Salk polio vaccine for distribution under the "voluntary" controls program for children five through nine years of age. The map shows how many shots each state is receiving.

Polio Cases Mount

CLEVELAND (AP)—Greater Cleveland's polio total rose to 147 yesterday with the admission of three new cases to University Hospitals. The new cases were a 37-year-old woman from suburban Mayfield Heights, a Cleveland Hights woman, 30, and a 29-year-old man from Painsville.

LaRue High School Contract for Gas Conversion Is Let

A contract for installation of a gas conversion heating system in the high school building was awarded by the LaRue Board of Education during a special meeting Friday night.

The Woods Plumbing and Heating Co. of LaRue was awarded the contract for the conversion and work will be started immediately.

The board also passed a resolution effective the first day of the 1955-56 school year which states that all married students are not to participate in any extra-curricular activities of the school.

The board appointed Dr. J. E. Fox, board member, as representative to a meeting of county school district representatives to be held Saturday, Sept. 10, in the Marion YMCA. The alternate chosen was Delbert Greenwood.

The resignation of Mrs. Lura Plotner as cafeteria helper was accepted and Mrs. Doris Hughes was hired as replacement.

The contract for coal for the present elementary building was awarded to the Marion County Farm Bureau.

Leaves $261,000 Estate

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mrs. Marie L. Coakley, 69, left a $261,000 estate when she died last June, an inventory filed in probate court showed today. The widow of John A. Coakley, former president of the Automatic Sprinkler Corp. of America, Mrs. Coakley was decorated by Pope Piux XII in 1937 as an outstanding Catholic mother. The bulk of her estate was left in equal shares to her eight children.

Not Ready To Die

The customary warnings are being issued to Labor Day weekend auto drivers for the customary reason:

To make them think about safety at a time when their lives are in unusual danger.

Warnings about the hazards of holiday traffic may not be broad enough. Perhaps they should not be directed to auto drivers, exclusively.

Few drivers travel alone. Nearly all have passengers with them when they travel—children, aged persons, husbands, wives, relatives and friends.

Frequently, the drivers of wrecked cars are listed as unhurt and alive, although their passengers have been mutilated or killed. No passenger should hesitate to remind a reckless driver that he cherishes his right to live.

It is not backseat-driving to ask for safety. It is not discourteous to tell a driver who has been risking your life that you are not ready to die.

Drivers who expose passengers to unreasonable and avoidable dangers commit an offense as serious as playing with a loaded gun in a crowded place. No one would stand for that.

Every passenger who comprehends the danger of traffic has a right to ask for his life. If more did ask, fewer lives would be sacrificed to the bad habits of drivers who make others share their gambles with mutilation and death.

No Time To Catch Up

A timely article by Sloan Wilson in Harper's Magazine may help to set the stage for a new school year.

"Public schools are better than you think," argues the author, who has been observing education as an executive of the White House Conference on Education. He grants all the things that are obviously wrong, then asks that fair-minded people quit dwelling on education's shortcomings at the expense of its triumphs.

The triumphs have been scored in spite of a handicap that never has been weighed honestly. The handicap is the unreasonable demands of parents and pupils on educators for a never-ending list of services ranging from health care to personality development.

But when the bill is rendered for these services, along with the bill for basic education, taxpayers complain that schools are costing too much. "In the last 50 years," Wilson declares, "and especially in the last 10 years, our nation has gone humanitarian to a great and wonderful degree, but it doesn't yet want to pay for it. The schools have never been anywhere near as good as they are today, but the gap between what they are and what the people want is greater than ever before. Nobody really wants to provide the money, time and thought necessary for closing that gap—the hope is that it can just be argued away. Most of the controversy over public education stems from a strong desire to get something for nothing."

The class can now come to order for the beginning of the 1955-1956 school year.

Settling Down on Wheels

It doesn't take an economist to deduce that this is a record year in American business. Millions of vacationers on the "not-so-open-road" can't escape evidence of economic boom.

There are new businesses, cars, boats, recreation facilities, shopping centers and outdoor movies everywhere.

There are new suburban residential sections. Everywhere there is building.

More Americans than ever before are building or own their homes. The Federal Reserve Board, with the help of the University of Michigan, recently completed a survey that reveals home ownership in the United States has increased one third since 1948.

Since that date, the total of home-owning families has climbed from 18½ million to more than 25 million. The number of families has been climbing also but is outdistanced by the jump in home-ownership. More than half of the 48 million families in the United States own their homes.

The logical deduction would be that more and more the footloose Americans are settling down, but if this is so how are the highways getting so cluttered with tourists? Don't they ever go home?

Men's Hemlines

For many decades men have been urged to wear lighter-weight clothes, more like women. News of the lengthening of men's Bermuda shorts by fashion decree seems to be a startling bit of evidence that men also may be imitating the annual style changes of women.

Lengthening the Bermuda shorts will make them heavier rather than lighter. The point is that when men's short trousers start fluctuating in length from year to year, the male of the species has taken a long step to match the yearly ups and downs of women's skirts.

Just as women's knees now blush unseen behind skirts, after having been exposed in the twenties, so men's knees now are destined to withdraw from public gaze after only a year or wo of visibility in the formerly short Bermuda shorts.

There you have it, men: from short shorts to long shorts in one year. Forewarned is forearmed, or should we say forelegged?

Religion In and On the Job

There's No Substitute

By EUGENE CARR

A definite relation exists between the caliber of work a man performs and the degree to which he has tied his life to a set of religious principles.

This is not to say that skill and ability do not count on a job. Most certainly, they do.

But the skilled worker whose purposes are anchored to the basic tenets of a firm religious faith will be all the more skillful. But if his heart isn't right and his conscience isn't at peace with God a highly developed talent or exceptional ability avail a man nothing.

There is no such thing as a man's private life not affecting his work. Even though the boss may not have the slightest interest in what his employes do off the job, he knows their personal habits and characteristics are sure to creep into their work performance. In the long run, the private life and occupational life of a worker are inseparable in the over-all scheme of living.

—:—

THE IMPORTANT thing is to apply the strength and courage and confidence and wisdom that come from a daily companionship with the source of all good and gracious gifts to the activities and duties of the work day. Then, with reasonable skill, a man cannot fail.

Mankind has been working since the earliest days of recorded history. Each generation comes to the eventual realization that work is one of the glorious experiences of life.

We may think, for a time, we want nothing more than to be independent of a job, have a comfortable income, and do as we please from day to day. But, interestingly enough, a man no sooner finds himself in such a situation than he starts looking around for something to do. He wants to be busy, but being busy alone does not satisfy him. He wants to be productive, make a worthwhile contribution to society, be a useful citizen.

Truly, there is no substitute for working, either in the process of earning a living or in the over-all experience of living. Work is meant to be a part of us.

The Bible is full of references to man's work and the vocations of the common life. There are numerous exhortations to go about our business, labor diligently, apply our hearts and hands and minds to the daily job. The Psalmist said, "Establish Thou the work of our hands upon us."

—:—

THE EARLY religious leaders worked at the occupations of their day. They provided their own food, clothing and shelter. They were farmers, fishermen, tentmakers. They considered their jobs to be a part of their responsibility to God.

The occupations and places of employment today are also meant to be outlets for the expression of religious beliefs and practices. Honesty in effort, honor in accomplishment, loyalty in association, humility in selflessness — these are primary qualifications, no matter where applied to life.

The worker who injects these principles into his job finds his labor, any labor worthy of the name, more satisfying, as it also contributes to the growth and development of his inner sense of well-being.

Cotton Corners

By TRUMAN TWILL

Dear Nephew: When your letter came with the news that you now live on a ranch, we decided we live on an estate in the suburbs.

There is a right name for everything, isn't there?

It goes down a lot easier to draw unemployment compensation than it does to be living on the dole. It also is better to be depending on old age insurance than to be drawing benefits from the government.

You could have been living on a ranch all this time, if you had chosen to say it that way from the beginning. Or you could have been living on a country estate, if you weren't particular about telling the truth.

Anything would have been better than saying you were living on a rundown farm with a creek running through it and thistles running over it. The creek could have been a brook. The thistles could have been "ground cover," which is an open - ended phrase that could describe almost anything that grows on the grounds.

It is more than ever in fashion right now to find the name that has the right flavor. One of the more curious ones is "coexistence" to describe what happens when you aren't big enough to lick 'em any more so must get along with 'em whether you want to or not.

Reminds me of that dandy word that John L. Lewis thought up for describing what happens when a union wants to break away — disaffiliate. Makes the whole process sound legal and on the up and up.

Instead of being a broken-down cracker - barrel philosopher who doesn't have any crackers, I could be a sage. Or maybe I could become a head shrinker and get paid $25 an hour for listening to people's troubles.

No one admits any more he cannot make head or tail of something that is too deep for him. He takes it under advisement. Or he continues to study it.

Houses aren't papered and painted; they are redecorated. Boys and girls aren't helped through school by wealthy patrons; they receive scholarships. Children are retarded, never dull. When people die on the stalk, it would never do to say so; it is better to say they are extremely conservative—even better than saying they are reactionary.

So there isn't any reason why you shouldn't live on a ranch, if you want to go along with the current fashion. Then you can name any vehicle that will haul supplies a ranch wagon.

You can have imaginary conversations with a ranch foreman. You can speak blandly of the stock. You can have a spring and a fall roundup. You can have your own brand, son — Old Ranch Water.

You can come to visit us at our country place, at our country estate, at our home in the suburbs, or at our cottage at the edge of the forest — they're all the same.

When any relative of ours jumps overnight from a rundown farm too small for crops and too big for blacktop to a ranch nothing is too good for him, pohdner, suh, when you call me that smile. Next thing, you'll be living on a plantation.

Accept our regards, especially for the little ones who shortly must get back on the educational ball. Give them a pat on their little pointed heads from the oldest generation.

Lost in the Alps

The New Revolution

By David Lawrence

A great speech was delivered the other day by the outgoing president of the American Bar Association — Loyd Wright of Los Angeles.

Lawrence

He called for "a new revolution, a bloodless revolution, as in 1776, by the lawyers of the nation, a revolution dedicated, as in 1776, not to establishing any new principles but to restoring the ancient liberties."

The part about "ancient liberties" got some attention, but it was promptly misinterpreted in some places to mean that Wright was talking about the issue of the abstract rights of Communists or Communist sympathizers or persons caught in the dragnet of Communist connections or affiliations. There wasn't a line in the speech that even remotely suggested that this was the basic theme of his approach.

No one in recent years has made so scathing a denunciation as did Wright of what the radicals or socialist liberals — or the "totalitarian liberals," as Herbert Hoover calls them — have done to American liberties.

WRIGHT REMINDED his hearers that Abraham Lincoln, a lawyer, had said that "you cannot build character and courage by taking away man's initiative and independence" and that "you cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could and should do for themselves." Wright added:

"For no apparent reason, since the turn of the century, and I believe as a companion to the ever-widening encroachment of an industrial revolution, our people have become restive, and too many of us have turned our backs to the ancient landmarks. We have drifted down the paths of paternalism, looking more and more to security, wherever or however it may be found, and abandoning the good old American traits of thrift, dignity in work, independence and the pride of accomplishment, and the joy of succeeding by overcoming all obstacles.

"The pattern of the decline is clear. On every hand our people are aligning themselves into opposing factions and pressure groups based upon economic interests, national origins, religious beliefs and geographical divisions, each organized for the avowed purpose of currying special favor at the hands of government and at the expense of the rest of society.

"THE FARMER, the labor union, the veteran, and industry and business are seeking protection from the necessity of proving their worth at the market place. Some of our people, and too many of our legislators have apparently come to believe that every human want and need should be satisfied through the coercive forces of government.

"Every hyphenated American who puts loyalty to his economic, geographical, religious or political affiliation above his duty and loyalty to the interest of the public at large adds momentum to the drift from the principles upon which our form of government is premised. It matters not what the source of the hyphen may be — the effect upon our future course as a nation the same . . .

"In recent years these once clear lines of authority between the central and local governments have yielded again and again to the pressures of political expediency, and the federal government exercises greater and greater control over our personal lives. The process is gaining increasing momentum. Too many of our people have been willing to barter their precious right to govern themselves for the temporal advantages of financial favor granted by the paternal grace of the benevolent, all - engulfing federal government.

"THE DEMANDS of our hyphenated Americans for special privileges for one group inevitably brings demands from other groups for equal or countervailing privileges, with the result that another area of human activity is subjected to comprehensive regulation and control.

"It is because we in this country have enjoyed liberties and privileges to a greater extent than any other people in the history of the world that you and I should jealously guard against the erosion of our fundamental rights, the distortion of our laws and fundamental theories of government from whatever source advanced."

Wright thinks there are "heartening signs that our ancient liberties may yet be preserved and restored." He cites the work of the American Bar Association to further the administration of criminal justice. He lauds the Hoover Commission as setting the course "for preserving due process and the separation of powers" in government.

THE "REVOLUTION" which Wright calls for is in urging citizens to "demand that those who serve us in government do so without favor, as our servants and pursuant to a rule of law." For, he says, the "revolution" is compelled "by a departure from the fundamental principles of individual liberty and local responsibility to which our profession is consecrated."

Wright's address is the reiteration of a truth seldom heard nowdays. It comes as a breath of fresh air in a fog so-called "liberalism," with its repeated sacrifice of ideals to the cause of expediency and materialism.

Holding the Bag

By Frank Tripp

Almost every time a fellow rates a complimentary dinner, his friends give him a traveling bag. A going away present for a bird who often would rather stay right where he is and keep his job.

The only good reason that I can see is the chance it gives the diners to spring all the bromides about "holding the bag."

It's a help to a drafted toastmaster. There's a stock speech, with or without pathos, that always ends, "Elmer, your friends hope you will use this slight expression of their affection often but always bring it back."

Then the emcee reaches behind his chair and clumsily brings forth the satchel which has been there all evening; right where the recipient has had a good look at it and already wished they'd given him the dough.

The wit who's been presiding tips over two glasses and a candlestick but finally gets the luggage into the hands of the disappointed guest of honor. Elmer opens it, hoping to find a fifth inside; but it's empty and lined like a gypsy tent.

Hardly able to talk, he gulps his appreciation and sheds a few tears. The congregation thinks it's emotion but the poor guy is crying real grief. He's thinking of what he wished he got.

—:—

I HAD an attic full of traveling bags that were given me for making speeches. The bags were as good as the speeches, which isn't saying much. Meantime I had three watches go on the bum and every time I hoped the honorarium would be a watch, but it never was.

Finally I got wise. When they invited me to speak and mentioned that they didn't have much to spend for a fee, I told them how much it would be.

When they learned that I was fed up on traveling bags they'd write back that because of sickness in the chairman's family the affair had been called off.

If you can stand on your feet and keep your tongue wagging for 20 minutes or better you can make a speech a week provided you stay amateur, charge no fee and settle for a traveling bag now and then.

When I bought my last watch it was tempted to emulate a cartoonist friend of mine, who also had an attic full of traveling gear.

One day he went off on a quiet solo toot. Passing a jeweler's window, watches caught his fancy. He bought one and had it engraved: "Presented to the biggest sap on earth, by himself, for no good reason whatever."

—:—

A RETIRING fire chief in a little burg near my town was given a big send off. They presented him a silver fire axe with a mahogany handle.

It was such an important occasion that the committee let the chief in on it so the ceremony could be letter perfect. The man who was to make the presentation and the chief got long speeches written for them and met every night for a week to rehearse. They had the whole thing down pat.

Then came the big night. The town hall was packed. The chairman called the chief to the rostrum. He had the axe behind his back and the chief stood before him.

The knees of both wobbled, then got weak. There was a long pause. The chairman couldn't get his speech started. Finally he said:

"Well, Joe, here's the axe."

"Damned if it ain't," stammered Joe—and the ceremony ended.

New Cannon for Old Fort

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP) — Fort Armstrong, which was established in 1816, again has two brass cannon mounted at the site overlooking the Mississippi River on Rock Island Arsenal Island.

They replace two Civil War island cannons mounted on wooden carriages. Many repairs were required with the passing of time.

The design of the brass cannons is similar to the mounts used in 1816.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Letter for Special Delivery

Dear Estes Kefauver: I have read your recent Senate subcommittee report on TV's influence on the small fry, and it is as clear to me as a "whodunit" in Spanish. In one breath you say video may very well have given the kids the idea "life is cheap and that sadism, brutality and contempt for the law can be regarded with calloused indifference." You add that "there is reason to believe TV programs are potentially more injurious to children than crime movies." But in the next breath you say there is no proof a kid is being hurt, and wander all over the lot with side remarks.

Your famous Davy Crockett coonskin bonnet ain't showing, Estes. You don't even use a squirrel gun in this hunt. The old Kefauver wading vigorously into the toughies of yesterday now seems more like Tennessee Ernie doing a bit part in "I Love Lucy."

I ADMIT THE TOP MEN of TV have a headache trying to control TV entertainment. They, too, have children, and are not out to degrade them. Nevertheless you merely slap them on the wrist with gloves lined with peach fuzz when a little tough talk wouldn't hurt.

You admit TV has been violating its own codes but criticize it only for "taking a calculated risk" with moppets' minds. What right has anybody to take risks with my kids' minds, calculated or noncalculated? You are not sounding any war whoop like you did in the gangster probes of a few years back, although some parents think Junior's character can take more of a beating in a week of TV-crime programs than by a whole year of news flashes about the Costellos and the Capones. You don't even seem as hot under the collar as you were over Dixon and Yates.

YEAH, SOMEWHERE in the report there is something about "stricter control of programs by the Federal Communications Commission" and authority by law to punish TV people who laugh off their own codes, but your emphasis is mostly on more research, public responsibility and "local listening councils."

That local listening council idea, I guess, was put in for laughs on account of a feeling all TV scripts must have a comedy touch. Gosh, Estes, there has been plenty of local listening for the past five years, with some of the grown-up listeners winding up in worse shape morally than the small fry.

You also suggest a presidential commission to begin a study next year of TV and its effects on Junior, but I am afraid Washington is fresh out of commissions as all men capable of serving on them are already busy studying one thing or another. Get back into the coonskin hat, Estes. You don't look so good singing tenor on a senatorial panel show.

Woman Loses Clothes In Chase at Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP)—A man walked into a bar on busy Pennsylvania Ave., Friday night, and suddenly began chasing a woman.

They took a few fast turns around the bar, zoomed into the outdoors, up the street.

Every time the man got close enough, he reached out and grabbed a piece of her clothing.

The whole thing ended up in a barber shop, where the girl took refuge, wearing only shoes and one other item of clothing. By that time, police said, about 350 people were gathered.

Betty L. Edwards, 34, and Gilbert L. Walker, 32, both of Baltimore, were charged with disorderly conduct. No explanation of the reason for the involuntary strip was immediately available.

Americans ate 8½ billion hot dogs in 1954, a little more than one per person each week.

Theater Attractions

Following is a summary of the motion pictures that will be presented at theaters in Marion next week.

—Palace—

"We're No Angels," the story of three cutthroats who escape from Devil's Island, will be on attraction of a double feature Sunday through Tuesday at the Palace Theater. Starred in the film in Vistavision and technicolor are Humphrey Bogart, Aldo Ray and Peter Ustinov. Others in the cast are Joan Bennett, Basil Rathbone and Leo G. Carroll.

Completing the billing will be "The Green Buddha," a crime drama starring Wayne Morris and Mary Germaine.

"We're No Angels" is the tale of three unlikely candidates for angel's wings, who escape from Devil's Island, succumb for the first time in their crime-riddled lives to the urge to help their fellow man, but instead stir up a hornet's nest of murder and larceny. Pursued by police and bloodhounds, they take refuge in Joan Bennett's house, intending to use any means, fair or foul, to secure their safety.

In "The Green Buddha," Wayne Morris plays the part of Gary Holden, who runs a small charter plane company, with one plane. He crashes while piloting an international crook carrying the priceless antique, the Green Buddha, stolen from an exhibition of Eastern art. The story revolves around Gary's attempt to find the Buddha, so that he can claim the reward to pay for his crashed plane.

Starting Wednesday to play for an entire week will be "The Kentuckian," in Cinemascope and technicolor and starring Burt Lancaster, plus "Top of the World" starring Dale Robertson, Evelyn Keyes and Frank Lovejoy.

Co-starred with Lancaster in "The Kentuckian" are Diana Lynn and Dianne Foster. Burt Lancaster is seen as Big Eli Wakefield, a hunter who found even the wild frontier of the 1820's too tame for him, and wanted to head westward where a man had room to move about. In the course of his strenuous attempt to get to Texas he engages in several knock-down-drag-out fights, gun battles, bullwhip settos and assorted acrobatics.

"Top of the World" is the exciting suspense story of a group of airmen stranded on a rapidly melting ice floe and deals with the heroic rescue activities of the Alaskan Air Command.

—Ohio—

"Pete Kelly's Blues," new melodrama-with-music starring with Jack Webb in the title role, is the current attraction at the Ohio Theater. It will be shown through Wednesday with special matinees scheduled for Monday, the Labor Day holiday.

Starring with Jack Webb in the Cinemascope production in color are Janet Leigh, Edmond O'Brien, Peggy Lee, Andy Devine, Lee Marvin and Ella Fitzgerald.

"Pete Kelly's Blues" depicts a story of violence during the most violent years of contemporary history, the roaring 20s. The story is told as it happened to Pete Kelly, a cornet-playing jazz man from Kansas City. Pete and his Big 7 Dixieland band are playing at a "speakeasy" called Rick's.

It is run by Rick but really owned by the racketeers who sell Rick his prohibition whiskey. Pete's got a girl, Ivy, portrayed by Janet Leigh, and she is always busy looking for fun and excitement. Pete's got other kind of trouble too. The mob wants a piece of his band. In addition, he's got a singer, who sings well but drinks better. All these troubles add up to the story of Pete Kelly and his blues.

Starting Thursday will be "The Left Hand of God," based on a best-selling novel by William E. Barrett about China in 1947. Humphrey Bogart and Gene Tierney head the cast.

"The Left Hand of God" tells the story of an American who, in order to escape from the service of a Chinese warlord, borrowing another's identity, a profanes the cloth he wears. Forced by circumstances into maintining a masquerade, he encounters further personal and emotional problems when he falls in love with a mission nurse.

Bogart has the role of the priest while Gene Tierney portrays the nurse in the story. Lee J. Cobb plays the Chinese warlord and other members of the cast include Agnes Moorehead, E. G. Marshall, Jean Porter, Carl Benton Reid, Victor Sen Yung, Philip Ahn and Benson Fong.

—North Drive-In—

"The Sea Chase," an adventure drama on the high seas starring John Wayne and Lana Turner and featuring David Farrar, Lyle Bettger and Tab Hunter, will be shown Sunday through Tuesday at the North Drive-In Theater. It is in Cinemascope and color.

The film is the story of an "outlaw" ship and the people aboard her. John Wayne is seen as the renegade captain whose own navy had wiped him off its map and Lana Turner is the ship's cargo.

Action in the story begins as the "outlaw" ship steams out of the harbor at Sydney, Australia under cover of night and moves to Pom Pom Galli, Valparaiso and the far North Sea. Thrills of the movie involve a deadly trans-ocean pursuit, a mutiny, a storm at sea and the temptations of the renegade crew when the blonde woman comes aboard.

A double feature of two first run hits has been billed for Wednesday through Saturday. They are "Pearl of the South Pacific," a romantic adventure story co-starring Virginia Mayo, Dennis Morgan and David Farrar, and "Mambo," filmed entirely in Italy and starring Silvana Mangano, Michael Rennie, Vittorio Gassman and Shelley Winters.

VIRGINIA MAYO and Dennis Morgan are co-starred along with David Farrar in the romantic adventure story, "Pearl of the South Pacific," which will be one attraction of two first run films billed for showing Wednesday through Saturday at the North Drive-In Theater.

In "Pearl of the South Pacific," the plot centers upon the efforts of a beautiful girl and two greedy men to find a fortune in black pearls which they have heard about from a dying native picked up at sea. When they arrive at the island paradise where the pearls are to be found, they discover they are guarded by natives led by a white ruler who refuses to let them land for fear they will corrupt his followers.

By posing as a lady missionary, Virginia Mayo succeeds in getting ashore and eventually the treasure-hunting trio learn that the precious pearls are kept in a sacred burial grotto guarded by a giant octopus in a deep lagoon.

"Mambo" is the drama of a girl whose craze for dancing swept her overnight from the slums of Venice to the glitter of palace society. She finds herself the magnet for three strong-willed people, all of whom have their own ideas of how to arrange her life.

—South Drive-In—

"Run For Cover," a tale of the West starring James Cagney, Viveca Lindfors and John Derek, with Jean Hersholt in a top featured role, will be the attraction Sunday and Monday at the South Drive-In Theater.

Cagney portrays a wanderer who has had a lot of bad luck and is wary of life but not yet embittered by it. He forms a strong attachment for young cowpoke, John Derek, but by a series of disastrous chance happenings involving the young man he finds the life he was trying to leave behind him repeating itself in alarming fashion. Cagney's choice is to stand and fight and risk the same injustice he has suffered before at the hands of irresponsible men or to run for cover and lose stature in his own eyes.

Billed for Tuesday and Wednesday is "About Mrs. Leslie," which stars Shirley Booth and Robert Ryan. The film probes the life of a woman and her one big love. Shirley Booth is seen as an average type woman running a California boarding house. Through flashbacks, it tells of her life as a singer in New York night clubs and her friendship with a nationally known industrialist.

"The Long Wait," a Mickey Spillane thriller, will be shown Thursday through Saturday. Co-stars are Anthony Quinn, Charles Coburn, Gene Evans and Peggie Castle.

In the picture, Anthony Quinn plays the part of a guy afflicted with amnesia, who during the course of trying to regain his mem-

YOUNG HOPEFULS REACH FOR FILM STARDOM. Here are some of the young hopefuls who gathered at a reception for candidates in the Baby Stars of 1956 contest in Hollywood. About 40 of the prettiest girls the film capital has in its "freshman" crop are entrants in the competition to select 13 finalists, who will be given a chance for stardom. The project is a revival of the old Wampas Baby Star movieland contests of years ago.

Hoover Technique By George Sokolsky

SOKOLSKY

Herbert Hoover has had three administrative positions in the government of the United States: Food administrator under Woodrow Wilson; secretary of commerce under Presidents Harding and Coolidge; President of the United States for one term.

In these three positions over a period of 16 years, he familiarized himself with the structure and procedures of administration. In addition, he spent from 1933 to the present day studying intensively problems of administration. Altogether he has been in public life 41 years.

In 1947, President Truman turned to him to organize and head a Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government.

-:-

THE PRESIDENT, the Senate and the House of Representatives each provided a third of the membership of this commission which was non-partisan.

The first Hoover Commission was limited to management problems. Nearly 75 per cent of its recommendations have been adopted in whole or in part.

The second Hoover Commission, appointed by President Eisenhower, also consisting of members provided by the President, the Senate and the House of Representatives, had a wider mandate in the Act of Congress bringing it into existence.

It was asked to make recommendations eliminating non-essential services and functions and activities and institutions of government which came into existence during the emergencies of depression and war.

THE COMMISSION was non-partisan in character, consisting of Herbert Hoover, Herbert Brownell Jr., James A. Farley, Arthur S. Fleming, Sen. Styles Bridges, Sen. John L. McClellan, Robert G. Storey, Rep. Clarence J. Brown, Rep. Chet Holifield, Joseph P. Kennedy, Sidney A. Mitchell and Solomon C. Hollister. At no time did the commission divide on a political basis, although there was plenty of division of opinion and dissenting reports.

The principal criticism of the Hoover Commission's recommendations is not that they are not based on accurate data but that in effect they would work a revolution in the sense that they would undo the trends toward socialization which go by the term, the New Deal. (For socialization, they use the term, social welfare.) It has been suggested that what Hoover is trying to do is to liquidate the social revolution of the past 22 years.

ON THE ONE HAND, the citizens are told that we must reduce taxes, reduce the national debt, balance the budget, and produce efficient government; on the other hand, we are told that no measures taken during the dangerous period of depression or during the expansionist period of war must in any way be changed, limited or abolished. A vested interest has grown up in the purposes and institutions of the depression - war periods.

Hoover takes the position that the depression-war periods and their administrative consequences need to be reviewed and that what is no longer needed, what is duplicative, what interferes with the American economy, what is unnecessarily burdensome upon the American taxpayer should be abolished or at least amalgamated.

This position embarrasses senators, representatives and even the administration who have to face those whose private interests benefit by government extravagance and inefficiency.

On the other hand, some of the recommendations run counter to doctrinaire positions held, with sincerity, by some citizens. So there is a fight in the offing.

SOME OF THOSE opposed to the Hoover Reports assumed that after they were filed with Congress, most of them would be forgotten. After all, these reports and their recommendations go to various congressional committees where they can die in pigeon-holes. But Herbert Hoover, in his 82nd year, is a cagey citizen who knows his way in Washington.

And so Citizens Committee for the Hoover Reports has been organized nationwide. It goes into every state and into every congressional district to alert those who are sympathetic with its recommendations to fight for them.

In many places, some of the recommendations will be rejected; but in others, the Hoover group will develop enough support to produce pressures upon senators and representatives. Republicans and Democrats, who seek re-election. This may be very embarrassing in the 1956 campaign.

Americans Aid Australians in, Electric Plans

Three Other Countries Also Sending Experts To Help in Projects

SYDNEY (UP) — Top engineers from the United States, France, Norway, Holland and other countries keep Australia's ambitious Snowy Mountains hydroelectric scheme well on schedule towards its 1985 completion target.

With the big business backing of big international engineering concerns, Australia's vast project ultimately will provide 3,000,000 kilowatts of power — more than the total capacity of all generating stations operated in Australia today. The scheme will also supply 37.8 per cent more water for irrigation purposes.

The Snowy plan, started in August, 1949, swung into production when the first trickle of power was switched on from the Guthega sub-station at Munyang, high up in the Australian Alps. A Norwegian firm, Selmer Engineering, brought a 200-man team to head the task force which worked round - the - clock for four years to complete the dam, pipelines and power station.

One Section Opened

Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies officially opened the first power-producing stations last April 23. Menzies inherited the scheme from his Labor predecessor, Joseph B. Chifley, when the conservative Liberals swung into power in December, 1949. The change of government never affected the $945,000,000 hydro-electric project on which $112,000,00 already has been spent.

The Guthega station now feeds 60,000 kilowatts from two turbo-generators straight into the New South Wales grid hookup. This output will shortly reach 90,000 kilowatts when a third turbo-generator is installed.

But so vast is the Snowy undertaking that this first achievement is just a drop in the bucket compared to the ultimate 3,000,000 kilowatt output which the Snowy scheme will deliver from 17 power stations by 1985.

Big engineering corporations from the United States, Italy, France and Britain periodically send their representatives to look the situation over and submit bids and tenders.

American Combination

Two overseas combines are now busy on two major contracts in the next stages of the plan. "The first is a joint group of French contractors, and the second an American partnership of four engineering firms.

The American group, known as the Kaiser - Walsh - Perini - Raymond organization, is a tie-up between four big American civil engineering concerns. It comprises Kaiser Engineers of Oakland, Calif., the Walsh Construction Co. of Framingham, Mass., and the Raymond Concrete Pile Co. of Delaware, Mass.

The Americans undertook to build a $43,000,000 14-mile diversion tunnel. Called the Eucumbene-Tumut tunnel, it will link up an underground power station with a huge reservoir which will completely flood the township of Adaminaby. The township's population of 1,200 will be moved lock, stock and barrel to higher ground when the dam fills up to contain eight times more water than Sydney harbor.

The American group also gained a second contract for another smaller tunnel and a dam which will run to an additional $12,500,000.

The Americans scored their first success when their veteran drillers led Australian workers to set a new world record for tunnel drilling. The cut their 24-foot tunnel through 402 feet in a record six days to beat the previous world record of 363 feet for a 20-foot tunnel made by the Walsh construction company in California.

Bicyclists Warned By Chief of Police

A warning to bicycle riders in Marion to obey all traffic laws was issued today by Police Chief Thomas B. Coon.

Increasing numbers of bicyclists are ridig on the sidewalks both in residential zones and in the downtown district, he said.

This is in violation of city laws and any bicyclist may be issued a citation for riding on the sidewalk, he noted.

Bike riders should ride in the street, keeping as close to the right hand curb as possible, he said. In addition if two or more bicyclists are riding along together, they should always stay in single file, never ride two or more abreast, he added.

To further their own safety, bike riders should keep both hands on the handle bars at all times except when giving the proper hand signals for right or left turns or a stop, he said.

LITTLE SHAVER IN THE FAMILY. Giuseppe Buono, 6, wields a razor like a veteran as he shaves his father, Antonio, a barber in Naples, Italy. Buono senior says he will challenge the California barber who claims he can shave a man in 17 seconds without ruining his features.
